GERMANS ARE FALLING BACK TO SIEGFRIED

Eisenhower's Communique Lists 14 Towns Taken, Nearly All in Belgium and Luxembourg

1ST NEAR DUSSELDORF

BULLETIN
Paris, Jan. 22.—(P)—The Nineteenth Tactical Air Force reported the destruction of more than 830 German motor vehicles today in attacks on columns fleeing from the Ardennes.

By JAMES M. LONG
Paris, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Allied warplanes caught 3,000 German vehicles, the bulk of transport of an entire army, in an attempted sneakaway from the Ardennes salient through the Siegfried line to the Rhine, and tore them to pieces today in a ruinous day-long attack.

The planes attacked with bombs, rockets and machine-guns.

The Nazis had waited too long to run the gauntlet down the snow-drifted escape roads and were caught on two highways in concentrations so thick that the Allied pilots said afterwards "we couldn't miss."

There was every indication that the Nazis would be the greatest threat to the wounded Wehrmacht fled for the Seine through the Falaise gap. The destruction of equipment promised virtually to immobilize at least one of Field Marshal von Rundstedt's two mobile reserve armies.

U. S. Third Army infantry battled today into Wiltz, the southern anchor of German defense lines running south from St. Vith. The U. S. First Army closed within two and a half miles of St. Vith. Gen. Eisenhower's communique listed 14 captured towns, nearly all in Belgium and Luxembourg, where the defeated bulge was less than 150 square miles.

The British moved within 35 miles of Dusseldorf and within five miles of the Roer river in a fresh two-mile advance through northwestern Germany.

The French First Army driving up the Rhine valley and through the Vosges from Mulhouse was slowed by deep snow. German attacks north of Strasbourg, powered by five or six divisions, and in the ornate Saarlautern area across the Saar river were declared repulsed.

The whole portentous next phase of the war in the west was slowly taking shape. It was obvious that the powerful influence of the terrific Russian blows against the eastern front was being felt. Gen. Eisenhower's armies and Marshal (Turn to Page Seven)

Forts Brave Wintry Gales To Visit Reich

BULLETIN
London, Jan. 22.—(P)—Two hundred Flying Fortresses bombed a synthetic oil refinery at Sterkrade in the Ruhr today despite howling winter gales over the continent. The bombers were escorted by 100 Mustang fighters from bases in Britain on the short trip across the Rhine in northwestern Germany.

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—Flying Fortresses and Liberators from Britain braved wintry gales over the continent and bombed targets inside Germany this afternoon. Blizzards checked the pace of the Allied air operations during the morning.

The day raid followed an attack on Kassel, 75 miles south of Hannover, last night by RAF bombers. Yesterday American heavy bombers from Britain, flying in temperatures as low as 67 degrees below zero, plastered rail targets in southwest Germany while Italian bombers attacked objectives in Austria.

Nine hundred U. S. Eighth Air Force Liberators and Fortresses, with an escort of 500 fighters, hit Mannheim, Aschaffenburg and Heilbronn. A medium force of heavy bombers from the U. S. 15th Air Force skirted the Alps and penetrated as far north as Vienna.

Unfolding Defense Plans Key to War

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—The German defense plan now unfolding in the eastern Reich holds the key to whether the Russian tidal wave, engulfing Poland, Silesia and East Prussia with amazing speed, will end the war quickly.

There are indications the Nazis may have extricated the greater part of their 135 central front divisions to the east and pulled them back into the Reich for a do or die stand before the Oder.

There has been no news of any large pockets of Hitler's troops left behind, nor big supply dumps overrun.

Bills To Aid Returning Vets Up For Action

Harrisburg, Jan. 22.—(P)—Administration bills to aid returning war veterans and to help small business reconvert after the war came up for a vote in the senate today.

The veterans' measures would broaden state laws governing banks and building and loan associations to help returning servicemen buy homes or farms or go into business.

Loans up to $10,000 are authorized to servicemen without down payments when 20 per cent of the loan is guaranteed by the veterans administration under the federal GI bill of rights.

Under present laws, state banks are prohibited from making loans on real estate in excess of two-thirds of the appraised value while building and loan associations are limited to 80 per cent.

A companion measure to cushion reconversion by small business would exempt government-guaranteed loans from a restriction stating that banks cannot make loans for more than 10 per cent of a company's capital and surplus.

Both branches of the assembly planned a three-day session to advance Governor Martin's fiscal and postwar program. Republican leaders said some of the measures may (Turn to Page Seven)

Jersey Man Named To Post in the Navy

Washington, Jan. 22.—(P)—H. Struve Hensel of New Jersey was nominated today by President Roosevelt to be assistant secretary of the navy.

Hensel who has been serving the navy department in a legal capacity on contracts for some three years, will move into the position vacated when Ralph Bard became undersecretary.

Other nominations submitted to the senate included:

Aubrey W. Williams of Alabama, former head of the National Youth Administration, to be Rural Electrification Administrator. He would succeed Harry Slattery, who resigned recently under protest.

Edward Jackson Kyle of Texas to be ambassador to Guatemala. Joseph P. McGurk to be ambassador to the Dominican Republic.

R. Henry Norweb of Ohio, now ambassador to Portugal, to be ambassador to Panama.

RELIEF ROLL SURVEY

Harrisburg, Jan. 22.—(P)—Relief rolls in Pennsylvania show 84,057 persons receiving old age assistance out of the 205,244 cases still found on the list of public assistance recipients. Robert P. Wray, acting secretary of public assistance, said "lack of resources and work capabilities and the infirmities of age make self-support impossible for this sizeable group."

Committee For Anti-Closed Shop Amendment in Labor Bill

Washington, Jan. 22.—(P)—The house military committee wrote an anti-closed-shop amendment into manpower legislation today and refused to specify agriculture as a critical industry.

The amendment, which members said was approved 14 to 10 in a closed session, stipulated that no man taking an industrial job at the request or direction of his draft board shall be required to join a union as a condition of employment.

Opponents contended the amendment, offered by representative Andrews (R-NY), would violate closed or union shop contracts between industry and labor.

The committee likewise turned down an amendment by Representative Stewart (D-Okla.) to write into the work-or-be-fined legislation a directive to selective service to "consider agriculture as a critical war industry" and to issue at once a directive to local draft boards ordering them to follow the letter of the Tydings amendment. This portion of the selective service law spells out conditions under which farm workers may be deferred from induction.

Reports of alarming conditions in coal and steel industries were added today to the nation's increasing problems over war manpower shortages.

TARLAC LEFT DEVASTATED BY JAPANESE

Seizure of Important Rail Junction Puts Yanks Nearly Half Way on Drive to Manila

NEAR CLARK AIRFIELD

By ELMONT WAITE

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Luzon, Jan. 22.—(P)—Tarlac, with its two airfields only 65 air miles from Manila, fell to the swiftly advancing Americans, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today. The once proud city, most prosperous in the central Luzon plains, was reduced largely to smoking rubble by the fleeing Japanese only a few hours before the Yanks arrived.

Seizure of the important rail and highway junction put the Americans nearly half way to Manila from their Lingayen gulf beachhead and within 22 miles of Clark airfield, largest of the Philippines. Adjacent to Clark Field is Fort Stotsenburg, major military post.

Tarlac, a city of 55,000 including its populous suburbs, was devastated by the Japanese, who evidently sprayed every building with gasoline and applied torches as the Americans approached down two converging highways.

Only bewildered, homeless Filipinos met their Liberators.

Seizure of two airfields at Tarlac brought to five the American bases on Luzon for further devastating air blows at Japanese troops and supplies. The largest is at Lingayen.

U. S. Doughboys, pressing eastward toward another good highway to Manila—this one following a circuitous foothill route steering clear of rivers and swampland—captured Victoria and La Paz east of Tarlac.

Farther north, in the long-rolled left flank, they captured Rosales and drove eight miles beyond to the east. They hammered another wedge into the main Manila highway by crossing the winding Agno river at Santa Maria southeast of captured Binalonan. Santa Maria is the easternmost point of penetration. Here they were only seven miles from the foothill highway.

Fighters based at the Lingayen airfield staged a surprise low-level attack on Tuguegarao airfield in the Aparri valley of northeast Luzon, destroying 15 grounded planes.

Long-range patrol bombers reached across the China sea to score a direct hit on a large ship in a convoy off Amoy, China.

Headquarters issued a recapitulation of dead on bloody Leyte island showing 68,839 Japanese have been killed and 692 captured—a ratio of 25 Japanese for one American.

Further southwest patrols were active on both sides of the Seno river, to which the Germans are clinging as their defense line in the Eighth Army sector.

Snow falls Limit Activities in Italy

Rome, Jan. 22.—(P)—Snowfalls on already snowbound mountain positions limited even patrol activity along the Italian front today—the first anniversary of the historic landings at Anzio.

In the Adriatic sector, an enemy raiding party penetrated two and a half miles into Allied lines northeast of Alfonsine after a heavy artillery barrage, but were thrown back to their original positions by Eighth Army troops.

Further southwest patrols were active on both sides of the Seno river, to which the Germans are clinging as their defense line in the Eighth Army sector.

Nips Reports New Strikes in Pacific

By the Associated Press
The Tokyo radio reported that some 550 U. S. carrier-borne planes struck at Okinawa island in the Ryukyu chain, south of Japan proper, today for the second successive day.

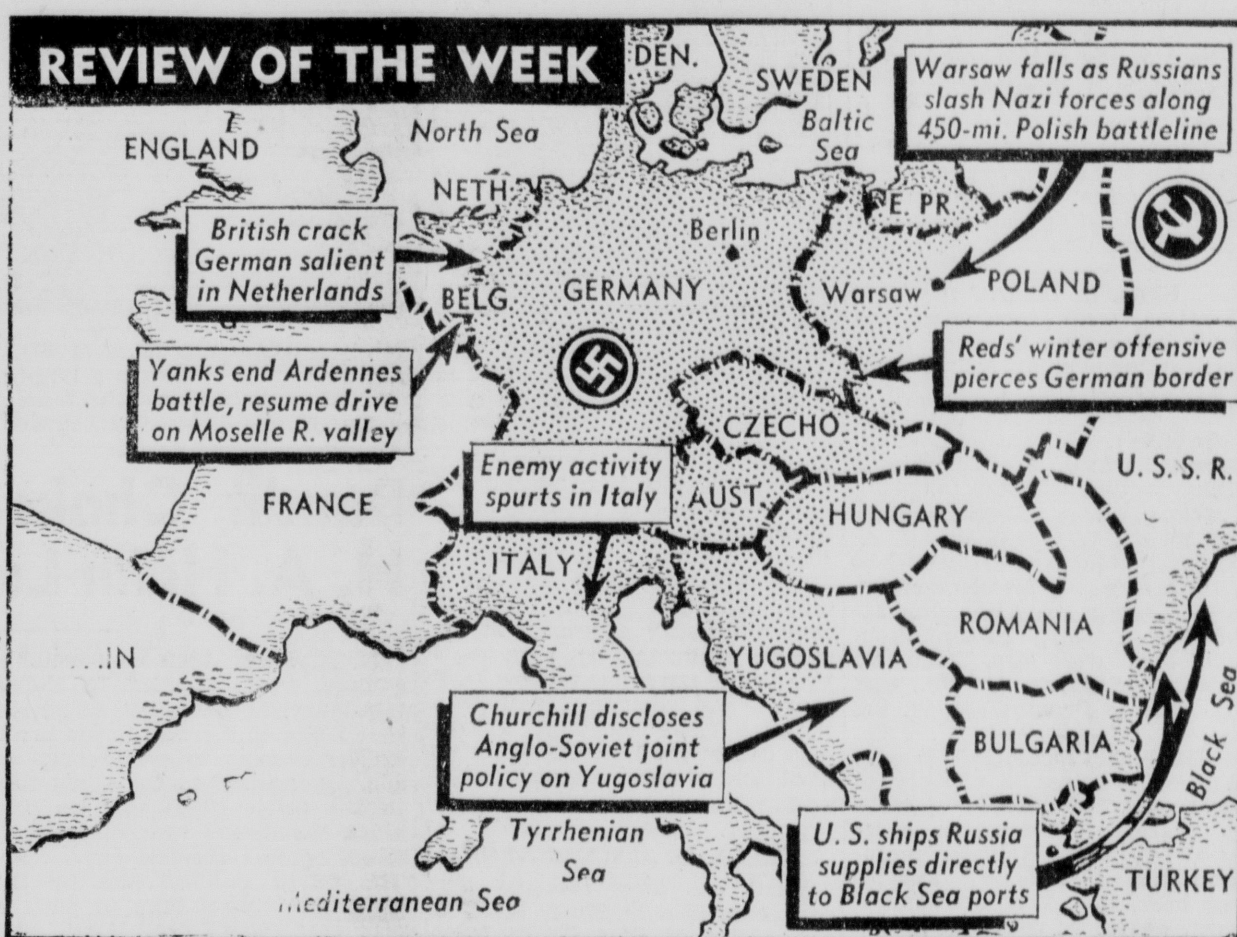

The report was not acknowledged by U. S. sources.

Today's attack began early in the morning, the broadcast monitored by the Federal Communications Commission said.

It admitted that Okinawa's installations had suffered damage but reiterated that the losses were "light." Forty-five of the attacking planes were claimed shot down and 34 damaged.

This is one of the largest raids that Tokyo has ever reported.

Russia's winter offensive and continued reduction of the Ardennes bulge by the Allies on the Western Front were highlights of the war in Europe during the last week, as above map shows.

Bear Lake Infantryman Cited For Brave Deed

With the American Infantry Division somewhere in the Southwest Pacific, Jan. 22.—(P)—Pfc. William Proctor of Bear Lake, Pa., has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for killing eight Japs who had cornered a patrol leader and wireman during the battle of Nip gap on Bougainville.

Woman Found Asphyxiated At N. Warren

Miss Arlene Nelson, 50, an employee of the Solar Electric Corp., was found dead in the bath room of her apartment on the first floor of a dwelling in the rear of 17 State street, North Warren, about eleven o'clock this morning. A burner attached to a hot water boiler in the small room was turned on so high that flames were blazing up the sides of the heater and it was apparent that she died from accidental asphyxiation from burned fumes.

Discovery of the tragedy was made by E. H. Jones and Mrs. Andrew Brooks, who with her husband occupies the second floor of the building, when they became alarmed over the fact that she had not been observed during the morning. They found the body in a sitting position on a stool in the bath room, with all rooms filled with the fumes from the stove. A physician was called and after examination decided Miss Nelson had been dead for some time. Coroner Ed Lowrey said a certificate of death from accidental asphyxiation will be issued.

Miss Nelson was heard about the apartment Sunday morning, and later in the afternoon. She had been soaking in the bath tub some clothing when she evidently planned to wash out, and there was a roast in an iron skillet on the kitchen stove, still untouched. It is believed death ensued some time late Sunday afternoon.

Miss Nelson was born in Farmington township, September 28, 1895, and had resided in the section all her life. She was a daughter of (Turn to Page Seven)

Hearing Held On Sylvania Wage Issue

Pittsburgh, Jan. 22.—(P)—The War Labor Board today conducted a hearing on disputed issues arising from negotiation of a first contract between Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., and local 611 of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, CIO, at Altoona.

The issues, as stated by the union, include excusable absences, seniority, wages, military service clause, probationary period, grievance procedure and pay, and retroactivity.

The panel decision will directly affect about 2,177 workers in the Sylvania plant at Altoona, and indirectly affect about 21,500 company employees in 24 plants, the company asserts.

Decision to Oust Jones In Favor of Wallace Threatens Bitter Fight in Congress

Washington, Jan. 22.—(P)—Henry A. Wallace called for "full and efficient employment" throughout the nation today, as opposition to his appointment as secretary of commerce spread on Capitol Hill.

Even before his nomination to take over the job of protesting Jesse Jones reached the senate, the former vice president issued a statement saying:

"I am happy that the president has named me to a position providing for continuous activity in the public welfare.

"In the highly geared world of today and tomorrow, there must be full and efficient employment throughout the nation."

The senate received Wallace's formal nomination from the White House shortly after it convened at noon.

Wallace laid down a four-point program in which he declared that "opportunity for free enterprise among business men must be expanded, particularly among small business men."

In the face of pleas from such men as Senators Connally (D-Tex.) and Bailey (D-N.C.) that Jones be kept on at least in his capacity as head of the vast federal financing agencies, the president called for and received the latter's bitter but full acquiescence.

"I must accede to your decision," said Jones in a letter emphasizing that "I cannot agree" that Wallace, until Saturday the vice president, would be a good man for the job.

Mr. Roosevelt had written Jones that "Henry Wallace deserves to have out a cabinet post as a reward for his support of you in the campaign."

Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) said it "has the appearance of a new deal political payoff appointment, dictated by Sidney Hillman and his Communistic comrades who are running the country."

The Jones-Roosevelt letters, dated January 20, inauguration day, were (Turn to Page Seven)

Nazi Broadcast Calls on All In Nation to Defend Reich

By JAMES F. KING
London, Jan. 22.—(P)—A call went out over the German armed forces radio today for everyone in the nation to join this "holy battle for liberty" as Russian forces sweeping into Silesia drove to a point approximately six hours by fast express from Berlin.

"Dashed by our enemies. This soulless, bestial, overwhelming mass onslaught must be held at all costs," the announcer shouted. He demanded that "every man who can carry any kind of weapon, in fact anybody who can shoot," join in defense of the Reich.

The Nazis themselves in home broadcasts did not try to conceal that "the hour of greatest peril to the fatherland has struck," and for the first time admitted that Berlin itself is threatened by the Russian offensive.

"If the Russians capture Poznan (in western Poland) then the threat to Berlin enters the acute stage," said a Berlin dispatch to the Stockholm Aftonbladet passed by Nazi censorship.

This correspondent quoted German military spokesmen as admitting the Russians had succeeded in bringing masses of infantry forward "faster than expected" and that reserves thrown into the battle are "mainly Volksturm (homeguard) formations."

TWO SOVIET ARMIES DRIVING INTO OLD JUNKERS PROVINCE ARE BUT EIGHTY MILES APART

Fall of Key City and Railway Center is Announced by Premier Stalin in 18th Order of Day Within Past Week

HIGH PRAISE IS GIVEN TO FORTY GENERALS

BULLETINS

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—Soviet troops have captured Inowrazlow, only 61 miles from Poznan (Posen) and 193 from Berlin, Premier Stalin announced tonight.

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—The Russians have driven to the Deutsch Eylau area, 45 miles from the Baltic in East Prussia, and to the Allenstein area, 50 miles inside the junkers province, the German high command said today.

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—Alexandrow, six miles northeast of Lodz, has been captured, Premier Marshal Stalin announced tonight.

By the Associated Press

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—Gen. Ivan Cherniakovsky's Third White Russian Army has captured Insterburg, second city of East Prussia, Marshal Stalin announced today, and the German communique indicated that two Soviet armies driving into the old junkers province from southwest and northeast were only 80 miles apart.

A junction would slice the stronghold of Prussian militarism in two. Insterburg, a city of 40,000, is only 50 miles from Konigsberg, the capital of East Prussia, and is 37 miles inside the province.

Stalin announced the fall of the key railway center in his 18th order of the day in six days, and praised 40 generals for taking part in the capture.

Moscow dispatches said Cherniakovsky's tanks had blazed a path to within 26 miles of Konigsberg on the northeast in a conquest which was overrunning almost half the rich old province of Prussian estates.

Apparently this was in the neighborhood of the lower end of the Kurisches Haff, coastal Lagoon.

Berlin called for a defense of the Reich by all Germans who can handle a weapon. Marshal Stalin's five great armies, smashing along an 800-mile front from the Baltic to Budapest, bore down on Berlin from 193 miles at two places and rolled over many German towns and villages in Silesia 28 miles from Breslau, Adolf Hitler's ninth city.

Only a square of northwestern Polish territory about 100 miles wide and 160 miles long remained as a buffer between Stalin's massed forces and the length of the German frontier.

The German communique inferentially admitted the Soviet capture of Tannenberg, East Prussian military shrine, by announcing that Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky's Second White Russian army was piling up pressure in the Deutsch Eylau-Allenstein area in the southwestern part of East Prussia.

Later he moved to Warren and resided on Fifth avenue for several years. Years ago he removed to Tulsa, Okla., where he founded the Norris Manufacturing Company engaged in the making of oil well supplies. With the coming of the war he turned to war production and at one time had 4000 men on his payrolls. He spent a long and busy life and his passing will be regretted by older residents of the county.

Funeral services will be held in Washington, Wednesday, at 9 o'clock with interment in Washington. Friends are asked to omit flowers.

TO GET FEDERAL AID

State Senator L. E. Chapman and Assemblyman Allen Gibson have gone to Harrisburg to attend the session of the state legislature this week. Senator Chapman anticipates that the bill he introduced for appropriating $100,000 for cancer research will be passed soon and signed by Governor Edward Martin. It is also expected that on the signing of the bill appropriating the funds from the state, the federal government will come to the aid of the project with a substantial sum. It is aimed to open a hospital in the state for the treatment of persons suffering from the disease. In introducing the bill, Senator Chapman made some brief remarks setting forth the need for the institution and outlining the facts which he had garnered from conferences with Surgeon General Parran of the United States.

Bandit Choked and Robbed H. A. Hahn Last Friday Night

H. A. Hahn, 1309 Pennsylvania avenue, west reported to Police Headquarters Saturday afternoon that while on his way to his home Friday evening he was robbed of $90. According to the story told to the police Hahn was walking along the avenue, near Pine street, when he was stopped by a man. The fellow grabbed him by the neck and choked him in such a way that Hahn's neck is still giving him trouble. The assailant threw the man to the sidewalk and went through his pockets taking his money and valuables. After the robbery the thief ran down Pine street and disappeared.

Woodsmen of This Section Burned in Fire Near Corry

Two woodsmen from the Sheffield-Kane sector, Frank Vidmer, 62, and Frank Stancic, 48, were burned to death in a fire which shortly after 12:30 Sunday morning destroyed a woods camp boarding house on the Nollinger-Peterson timber tract about 2½ miles from Corry.

Just what started the fire will perhaps never be known, but shortly after 12:30 Sunday morning Joseph Prudich, 41, of Corry, was awakened by the crackle of flames and ran down stairs shouting "Fire!" He awakened the landlady, Mrs. Louis Grezina, and the two went outside and by yelling endeavored to awaken the men asleep upstairs. John Szet, 37, came to a window and jumped outside, sustaining some burns and injuries about the back. Frank Vidmer came to the window and evidently went back to get valuables and was not seen again. Stancic was not seen by anyone and had evidently been overcome by smoke. Vidmer and Stancic were from the Sheffield-Kane district and had been employed at one of the woods camps in that section, but had gone to the Nollinger-Peterson job some weeks ago.

The husband of the landlady and three of their children were not at home at the time of the fire. The husband had a severe sprained ankle and was in Corry taking treatments and staying at the European Hotel. An older daughter had a fractured collar bone and was also taking treatment in Corry. Two boys had gone in stay all night with their father and sisters and to attend a picture show, so they all escaped.

WILL HOLD BENEFIT

Townsend Club No. 2 will aid the March of Dimes by holding a series of games as a benefit for the fund Wednesday, January 24. The affair promises to be well attended and it is hoped to raise quite a worthy sum for the laudable objective.

Russians Storm Lodz and Krakow

Russians stormed the Polish cities of Lodz and Krakow, as shown on above map. Soviet dispatches indicated that the sweep had carried across the border into German Silesia. In a drive north-west of Warsaw, the Reds headed toward East Prussia after liberating Konopki and Kruk.

It was announced today that the Pre-Induction meeting for Selectees, scheduled to be held tonight at the Y. M. C. A., has been cancelled. For the first time in two years of such meetings the response to invitations has been too small to make such a program possible. Ralph H. Wagner, general secretary of the Y. M. C. ## Letter From Chaplain to Local Mother

Mrs. Ella Mauk, 210 Pennsylvania avenue, east, has received the following self-explanatory communication from Maury Hundley,
Jr., chaplain of the 121st Infantry Regiment:

"Dear Mrs. Mauk:
"The Regimental Commander,
the Officers and Men of the 121st Infantry Regiment wish to express their deepest sympathy to you and your family in the loss of your son,
Pfc. Wallace L. Mauk, 32298404, Company B, 121st Infantry, who was killed in action in France on 13 July 1944.

"Your son was performing his duty in a most courageous and excellent manner and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.
"We want you to know that you are not alone in your loss, for it was ours also. Our prayer is that God may be close to you in your sorrow and through His grace you may find comfort. A Protestant service was held for your son, by an Army Chaplain, at the grave, which is in a U. S. Military cemetery, Normandy, France."

An article appearing in this paper on August 3, 1944, reported that Pfc. Mauk had been killed in action in France on July 13.

S-Sgt. Lucia Is Decorated at Corsica Base

According to a special report just received here, Brig. Gen. Rhbert D. Knapp, commanding officer of a 12th AAF B-25 bomber wing, recently decorated S/Sgt. Anthony
W. Lucia, of Warren, with the Air Medal.

Sgt. Lucia, tail gunner with a 12th AAF Billy Mitchell bombardment group, received the decoration and the general's personal congratulations in a special ceremony at the unit's base in Corsica.

Sgt. Lucia, son of Gabriel Lucia, 1307 5th street, has flown on bombing missions over France and Italy and, in addition to the Air Medal, wears the Distinguished Unit badge and a battle star for Italy.

OCEAN OF AIR
Humans live in a great ocean of air, walking along on the bottom, like crabs on the floor of the sea, and if they ascend too far they die, just as do deep sea creatures when taken too near the surface of the ocean.

serviceman's Christmas stocking

California Fruit Growers Exchange that shipments to military

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

Don Smith, East Side purveyor of pills and nostrums the other day in rummaging through some stock that had been kicking around the store for some years ran across a label. It was yellowed with age and bore the wording
"Glade Drug and Variety Store".

The proprietor was listed as F. H.
Dixon and the store was located at Elm and Pennsylvania avenue.
Bet you can remember that store. The big glass bottles in the window filled with colored water that excited imagination of the kids as to whether or not it might be a new fangled castor oil. And then, too, the store belled the fact that the old time drug store did not have everything from needles and pins to the best seller in the fiction line. It was really

Oxx, commanding officer of the base section, which is the vital
supply and services organization
for the Fifth Army.

Three in Unit Commended By Their Head

By special dispatch from Peninsular base headquarters in Italy comes the news that three Warren county men are members of an engineer boat regiment which has recently been inactivated in the Italian theatre, but, prior to its disbanding, achieved a superb record which won the particular commendation of Col. Francis H.
Oxx, commanding officer of the base section, which is the vital
supply and services organization
for the Fifth Army.

The local men, all in a tank lighter company, are T/5 Frank C.
Russo, Warren; Pvt. Clair A. Winger, Sheffield, and T/5 Charles N.
Brant, Kinzua.

Col. Oxx has this to say of the unit:

"The splendid record that has been achieved and the traditions and spirit which have been built in the twenty-eight months of the organization's existence are an example to all in this united effort to defeat our enemies. The Regiment has operated in twenty-five ports in the British Isles, Africa and on the European continent and its islands. The task under such conditions of dispersal has been exceptionally difficult operationally, administratively, and particularly in regard to the welding of an esprit and pride of organization which will go forward to join other units and carry on new missions, but they may all know that their former unit stands out among combat and service regiments alike as having performed an exceptionally meritorious service to its country and the Allied cause."

Pvt. Crocker Is One of Four In the Service

Women's branches of service are well represented in the family of Pvt. Margaret K. Crocker, of Clarendon, taking basic training at the Third WAC training center at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., for she has three cousins in service representing the WAC, the WAVG and the SPAR.

Two of the cousins, sisters from Warren, are L 3/c Autumn Ettinger, with the SPARS at Fort
Land, Me., and AMM 1/c Adelaide Ettinger, with a WAVG unit at the Livermore, Calif., naval air base.
The other cousin is Pvt. Dorothy Ettinger, of the WAC, stationed in New Guinea.

Upon completion of basic training, Pvt. Crocker will receive special training as a surgical technician. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd R. Crocker, of Clarendon.

some emporium of health and happiness and handled and sold a "variety" of things that kept the digestion good and the disposition sweet.

Pete Fanarties, who is not one of the oldest citizens but who by keeping his ears open while engaged in putting "everything on em" has garnered more than his share of information about men and things locally recalled a good tale yesterday. It seems that back in the days when prohibition was a red rag to the guy with a thirst one Warren bird got hold of a batch of alcohol. He had it manufactured into ten gallons of assorted whiskey and a bit of cognac. Then a little suspicious of it he forwent sampling of the mess until he generously gave a fellow a quart and then watched results.
The fellow lived so the experimenter concluded the stuff was safe.

One five gallon keg was kept out for immediate use and it was decided to age the other five gallons in the breast of Mother Earth. The fellow owned a camp high up in the mountain near Scandia and he loaded the tonic in his car and hied away. He took the keg up on the hill to a spot he thought he knew and digging a hole buried it.
The next day it snowed and when the thaw came the signs leading to identification of the burial grounds were all obliterated. Search has failed to bring the keg to light and lips. So if you have a thirst and want to do a little prospecting get out on the hills and do a still hunt. That stuff really ought to be good as it was buried over 20 years ago.

Have you seen our friend Lewis Jamieson recently? Lewis has not been in tip top health for months past, but is now out again and is resuming his legal practice, spending a few hours each day at his office. He has shed a lot of avoidupois, but, of all things, he has gone and raised a goatee, which gives him a most distinguished look. At first glance you might think it was Buffalo Bill or Capt.
Jack Crawford who is confronting you, but back of the hirsute adornment is our friend Lewis. And it all goes to show that not only the boys in the service raise beards.

Tomorrow is going to be marked by the rustling of a lot of grains in the sands of time, as George Hachin, William V. Geer, Clem
Stokes and 'Squire Tom Cook all pass another milestone. All of the boys have been with us for quite a spell and all of them have acquired a batch of friends who will be darned glad to stick out their hands and wish 'em more and more years. It's a great thing to have a birthday, but when a fellow gets along to the place where the old joints begin to creak and longish eyes are cast at a useful cane, then it's time to stop havin' 'em. None of the boys who celebrate to-morrow are the least bit decrepit and any one of the four can do a double shuffle or cut a pigeon wing.

C. Elmer Samuelson, one of the boys who hugs the letters around and collects postage due, showed Bert Erickson, of the Banner Grocery something Saturday that caused Bert's eyes to pop. It was just about the lowest bit of crookedness that can be found—a counterfeit penny. The coin was just about half as thick and not so big around as a regular penny. What a heck of a lot of 'em it must take to make an impression on the bank roll of the crook who would waste valuable time making phony cents.
Boy, if we were gonna get busy with counterfeits, it would be big bills or something that really counted. However, Uncle Sam's bunny saw isn't a good thing to muzz with, so guess we will continue to get the regular pay check, even if it is depleted by the withholding tax.

Their smokes are packed in petroleum!

Fresh cigarettes are mighty important to the GI's who fight in heat, rain, flood and mud. And they're wanted on the home front, too.

Materials once used for cigarette packaging were drafted for war. But they're not missed now by smokers whose favorite brands come in paper packages protected with Atlantic Refining Company's Amprol 8.

Paper laminated with Amprol 8 has proved to be an excellent inner wrap for cigarettes. It keeps freshness in and climate out. It is tough and durable. It resists breaking, tearing, splitting.

The development of Amprol 8 from petroleum by Atlantic's Research Division is a neat feat of wartime science. And protecting soldiers' smokes is only one of its many assignments.

Its BIG job is strengthening and waterproofing the heavy wrapping paper that guards machinery and war products against corrosion. It is also used as a lubricant for wire rope. New demands are producing other new uses.

The same research that gave you metal-saving Amprol 8 is working for you daily. New products made from crude petroleum, new improvements in old processes are continuously evolved at Atlantic.

This is research to help win the war—and to bring you finer petroleum products for peacetime use.

FOURTH INAUGURATION

Franklin D. Roosevelt began his fourth presidential term Saturday with a pledge that "we shall work for a just and durable peace as we work and fight for a total victory in war."

"We can and we will achieve such a peace," Mr. Roosevelt said after taking the oath of office in an unprecedented ceremony on the south portico of the White House. Before him the smallest inaugural crowd in years had scuffed a light snow off the White House lawn. About him were gathered the government's top leaders—including the new vice president, Harry Truman, of Missouri.

The text of probably the shortest inaugural address in history follows:

Mr. Chief Justice, Mr. Vice President—my friends:

You will understand and, I believe, agree with my wish that the form of this inauguration be simple and its words brief.

We Americans of today, together with our Allies, are passing through a period of supreme test. It is a test of our courage—of our resolves—of our wisdom—of our essential decency.

If we meet that test—successfully and honorably—we shall perform a service of historic importance which men and women and children will honor throughout all time.

As I stand here today, having taken the solemn oath of office in the presence of my fellow countrymen—in the presence of our God—I know that it is America's purpose that we shall not fail.

In the days and the years that are to come we shall work for a just and durable peace as today we work and fight for total victory in war.

We can and we will achieve such a peace.

We shall strive for perfection. We shall not achieve it immediately—but we still shall strive. We may make mistakes—but they must never be mistakes which result from faintness of heart or abandonment of moral principle.

I remember that my old schoolmaster said, in days that seemed to us then to be secure and untroubled: "Things in life will not always run smoothly. Sometimes we will be rising toward the heights—then all will seem to reverse itself and start downward. The great fact to remember is that the trend of civilization itself is forever upward; that a line drawn through the middle of the peaks and valleys of the centuries always has an upward trend."

Our constitution of 1787 was not a perfect instrument; it is not perfect yet. But it provided a firm base on which all manner of men, of all races and colors and creeds, could build our solid structure of democracy.

Today in this year of war, 1945, we have learned lessons—at a fearful cost—and we shall profit by them.

We have learned that we cannot live alone, at peace; that our own well-being is dependent on the well-being of other nations—far away. We have learned that we must live as men, not as ostriches, nor as dogs in the manger.

We have learned the simple truth as Emerson said, that "the only way to have a friend is to be one."

We can gain no lasting peace if we approach it with suspicion and mistrust—and with fear. We can gain it only if we proceed with the understanding and confidence and courage which flow from conviction.

The Almighty God has blessed our land in many ways. He has given our people stout hearts and strong arms with which to strike mighty blows for freedom and truth. He has given to our country a faith which has become the hope of all peoples in an anguished world.

We pray now to Him for the vision to see our way clearly—to see the way that leads to a better life for ourselves and for all our fellow men—to the achievement of His will to peace on earth.

GERMAN POSITION PRECARIOUS

Germany's position in the path of the Red avalanche hourly becomes more grim, news dispatches from the eastern front over the weekend emphasize.

Muscovite forces have bludgeoned their way into German industrial Silesia on the road to proud Breslau, important railway center and next to Berlin the greatest city in Prussia. They've stormed into East Prussia and captured Tannenberg, scene of Russia's greatest defeat in the last war and Valhalla of the Prussian militarism which the Allies have vowed to destroy as the curse of Europe. The Red war machine is driving the Hitlerites before it across the frozen plains of Poland towards the borders of the Reich.

How long can the Germans hold out against this terrific offensive—an onslaught unprecedented in history for weight and intensity?

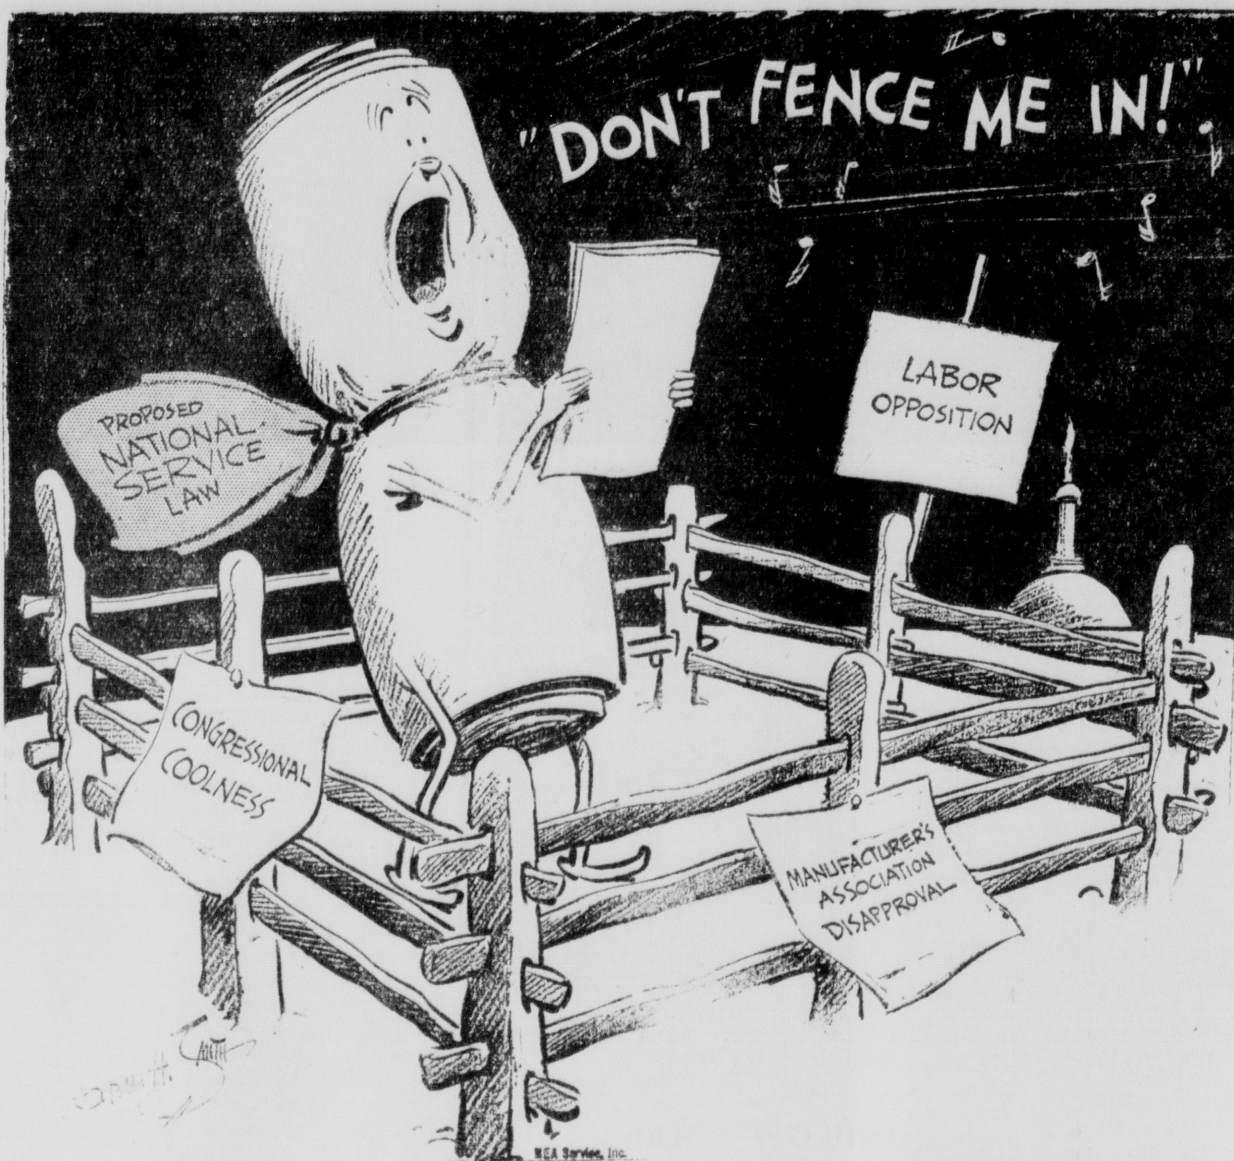

In trying to find an answer DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press war analyst says "we must not forget certain basic facts which we long have known about German purposes and the strategy they intend to employ in an effort to achieve those purposes. Emphatically we shouldn't jump to the conclusion—as many did when the Nazis began their great retreat from Normandy—that the war will be over in a few days."

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

And many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto thee.—Zechariah 2:11.

Nothing can bring you peace but yourself. Nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles.—Emerson.

Chapter 29

THERE were two or three cars in the drive and Rosalie wrinkled her nose disdainfully, and said, "The curious have already started to gather. Under the guise of being friendly and neighborly they are snooping like mad to find out the whole truth."

The door was opened to them by a plump little woman, her dark eyes snapping, her manner self-important.

"Oh, good morning, Mr. Prather. Hello, Rosalie!" she greeted them briskly. "I'm afraid Isabel can't see anybody this morning."

But Rosalie merely grinned cheerfully, and said, "Oh, I think Isabel will see us, Mrs. Burke. Is she in her room?"

"Well, I guess it will be all right for you to go up," said Mrs. Burke reluctantly. "But you surely can't, Mr. Prather."

"Who said he wanted to?" Rosalie countered. "Wait in the living room, Hugh. I'll send Isabel down."

"Well!" said Mrs. Burke, obviously resentful of Rosalie's manner.

ISABEL came so lightly into the room that he was not aware of her presence until she spoke. "Good morning, Mr. Prather," she said quietly. "I was expecting you. You want my father's keys, of course."

She turned towards a desk, but Hugh, puzzled, stopped her and asked, "What would I want with your father's keys, child?"

She set her teeth hard in her lower lip for a moment to still her trembling before she answered him in that steady, almost harsh young voice. "You will, of course, find the evidence you need among his papers—probably in the safe."

"Isabel, you poor child," Hugh said compassionately, "I came out here this morning for no reason in the world but to tell you that what happened last night at my house—died with your father. There is no reason in the world why anyone save just the three or four of us who already know should ever know anything but that your father destroyed himself in a fit of temporary aberration."

"You—you mean you're not going to broadcast—about—about the taverns and all—" she whispered so faintly that he could barely catch the words.

"Of course not, child! Why should we?" asked Hugh vigorously.

"You—you're swell!" she said unsteadily. "No wonder Dr. Merry loves you so!"

HUGH beamed at her. "Now it's my turn to say 'thanks!' he said lightly.

"But I have been thinking, Mr. Prather," she told him. There was a little color now, faint as a wild rose, in her smooth cheeks. "I read in the newspapers a few days ago that the women who have taken the Nurses' Aide course with the Red Cross, and serve one hundred and fifty hours in the hospital where they trained, are eligible for service in army hospitals. I thought if I went down to Atlanta and took that course, and then served in a hospital there—I couldn't stay in River Gap, Mr. Prather, not now!—why, then, maybe, I could serve in a military hospital!"

She looked up eagerly at Hugh, and he said quickly, "I think that's a swell idea. I don't know whether you could possibly be assigned to Jerry's hospital, when you've finished your training, but I'll promise you one thing: Dr. Nichols and Captain Gordon and Dr. Merry and anybody else we can contact will do everything humanly possible to get you there!"

IT FELL to Meredith, of course, to tell Jerry of Dan Lacey's death. Jerry listened to her quietly, and when she had finished, he said through his teeth, "So it never came out about him and the moonshiners!"

He looked up at her startled face and added, ironically, "Or did it?" Meredith asked, "What do you mean, Jerry?"

Jerry looked a trifle derisive. "Mean to say you weren't even suspicious? I was suspicious as the devil," he admitted baldly. "But I didn't have anything but suspicion to go on. After all, he was Isabel's father and he'd been very decent to me, and unless I had positive proof, I couldn't feel it was my duty to rat on him!"

Meredith was very still for a moment.

The boy who sat before her, no longer bedridden, but now able to spend all his waking hours in a wheelchair, and even to go for short walks through the beautifully kept grounds, bore slight resemblance to the white-faced, hostile, bitter-tongued boy she had brought here so much against his will. He had gained a few pounds of weight, and he was sun-browned to the color of old leather; the angry, hostile look was gone from his eyes now and they were eager, hopeful, almost daring to look ahead to happiness.

HE looked at Meredith and asked, "Isabel? What's she going to do?"

Meredith smiled. "Take a Nurses' Aide course, serve her hundred and fifty hours probationary period as fast as the hospital will let her, and then ask to be allowed to do duty in a military hospital. Preferably, of course, this one, though I'm not at all sure that can be done."

Jerry's young face lit up with a great happiness.

"Sounds like her," he said warmly, and then roughly, "I ought to be there with her, helping her through a time like this. She was always nuts about her Dad. This is a very bad time for her."

"She's asked to be allowed to serve twelve hours daily, seven days a week, until she completes her training, Jerry," Meredith told him.

She rose, but at the door she paused to say over her shoulder, "Oh, by the way, the election is over in River Gap—my husband won! He's now the mayor!"

Dragons Trounce Titusville; Licked by Red and Green

Retain Lead in Section Two; Poor Showing in Jamestown Battle On Saturday Night

The Warren High varsity split even in its weekend engagements, running rampant over the Titusville Rockets, 45-24, but losing to a superior Red and Green's hard-wood Saturday night. The locals now have 8 wins and 3 losses, two of them to the upstarts and one to Bradford.

Joe Scalise and George Lucia sparked the Dragon attack on the Beatty court Friday night, Scalise dropping in 13 points and Lucia 10. Joe Massa's courtsters had little trouble in annexing their

Local Seconds Increase Total To Seven Wins

Warren High's Second team added two more wins to their credit this season to make a total of seven wins against one loss, drubbing the Titusville second stringers, 45-18, and edging out a two-point victory over Jamestown junior varsity in a "sudden death" period.

Jim Farrell and Jim Scalise took top honors in the Titusville fray, scoring 12 and 11 markers, respectively. The Titusvillians went down under the crushing junior Dragon advance and couldn't manage to come anywhere near the local call-

The battle encountered on Red and Green court Saturday was a long, drawn out affair which turned into a continuous march to the free throw lane with four Warren boys being counted from the game via the new, "five fouls and out" method. Nystrom, Farrell, Simmons, and Reed all felt the effects of the new ruling as they marched out of the game, all in the last period.

The Jimtowners jumped off to a 14-7 first quarter lead, but the locals retaliated with a deadly eye for the basket to come out at half-time on the long end of a 20-10 count. The Dragons continued their margin, 35-30 at the third stanza mark. The fourth quarter developed into a fight-to-the-finish, and the finish was a long way off. The opponents scored 13 points to the locals' 8 in the final period to tie the ball game at 43-43 when the final whistle blew.

Going into a three minute overtime period, Jamestown dropped in a basket which looked like the winning point, but Vescio and Wollaston each responded with a two-pointer as the locals went ahead. Two foul shots put the game in another deadlock at the finish of the overtime period. It was "whoever scores first, wins" in the sudden death period. Both teams shot wildly at the end before Jim Scalise smashed through for a law-up shot to end the game with the Dragons on top, 49-47.

BEHIND THE LINES

Army, DePaul, St. John's of Brooklyn, Notre Dame and Tennessee have risen to challenge Iowa for the top collegiate basketball honors of the Nation as Kentucky took a one-point ducking by Tennessee, 35-34. Last week, Kentucky and Iowa held top billing and Iowa barely missed being topped from the ranks of the unbeaten Friday night when they shaded Michigan, 29-27. DePaul made its bid for honors, downing the much-talked-of Hamline University quint, 45-41, coming from behind and tying the score nine times in the first half. Notre Dame shattered the Great Lakes' record by crimping the sailors' style, 55-51.

War department and war manpower commission orders may still send a more "doubtful" look toward plans for professional and intercollegiate sports to operate during the next year, but the men who are at the head of things don't seem too worried. Representatives all agree that if curtailment sports would hasten V-Day, they should be halted immediately.

National Hockey League officials had another headache added to their already swimming heads when the Canadian Selective Service officials announced that no more exit permits would be issued to servicemen unless they had served overseas. A majority of the league's players are Canadians and had played almost all their games in the states on exit permits.

Basketball activity over the weekend was what you might call "not too bad, but not too good, either." Friday's Warren-Titusville fray turned into an interesting and scrappy battle. On hand to witness the boys' exhibition were some of the town's outstanding players.

(Turn to Page Eight)

Local Quintets Meet Bradford And Jamestown

Basketball followers will have a chance to see two fast out-of-town clubs up against the National Forge and Struthers-Wells teams Tuesday night on the Y court. The Irvines open up the hostilities at 7:30, taking on the Bradford crew, league leaders in the Bradford City loop. This aggregation boasts a group of high schoolers who will provide the Forgers with plenty of action.

The league leading five in the local Y.M.C.A. cage loop, the strong Struthers-Wells quint, will take on the Jamestown Vikings at 8:30. The undefeated Struthers club will be out after their eighth straight win of the season against this first place team in the Jamestown Y League. The Vikings are paced by Wes Ferro, three-year letterman formerly of the Jamestown High school, and high-scoring ace "de luxe."

The Swansons now have the services of Dick Finley, former high school star, and Demps Peterson. Along with these two veterans, Manager Red Swanson has plenty of able material—Willard Zerbo, Bob Chase, Allie Lord, Junior Akcey, Frankowski and Ted Kaminski. Kaminski, the ironworkers' top-notch basketball player, has just returned from a furlough and, his corporal permitting, will fill one of the forward posts Tuesday night.

These two games will provide lots of excitement for cage enthusiasts in the town, as have almost all the games played at the Y this year. Preliminary at 7:30, main game at 8:30.

Forfeit Give: Flyers Practice Round at YM

In the final game of the preliminary round of the Junior Y.M.C.A. City League on Saturday afternoon at the Y, the Terrors rang up 39 to 34 win over the Ducks in the first game, and the Flyers whacked a 1 to 0 forfeit over the Wildcats.

The Terrors-Dukes tilt was free scoring affair with Patterson of the Terrors chalking up 13 points and Scalise and Aurilio the Terrors ringing up 12 points each. The Terrors opened up with a smashing 15 to 0 first quarter. The Ducks took over in the second quarter scoring 18 points to the Terrors' 11 points. The Duke tried hard to keep up the good work in the second half but the Terrors staged a third quarter scoring spree which brought them up to the finish line with a 30 to 34 decision.

The Wildcats were forced to forfeit the second game to the Flyers due to an epidemic of injuries during the past week which laid up over half their players.

The final standing of the team for the preliminary round:

W	L	Pct.
Flyers	2	0 1.000
Terrors	2	1 .667
Ducks	1	2 .333
Wildcats	0	3 .000

The opening games of the first half of the schedule will get under way next Saturday with the Terrors tackling the Wildcats in the first game and the Flyers battling the Ducks in the second game.

Recruiters Here Tuesday After WACs

A recruiting unit of the Women's Army Corps, comprised of members of the staff of the Erie WAC Recruiting Office, will arrive in Warren on Tuesday, and maintain offices from 2 until 7 p. m., on Tuesday in the Y. W. C. A. Members of the unit will be Lt. Mary A. O'Connor, Commanding Officer and S/Sgt. Mary I. Gravel. General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, U. S. Army, announced that more than 8,000 additional Wacs are required in the newly created Women's Army Corps Medical Units for service at the Army's sixty general hospitals in this country, and urged the Governors of the forty-eight states and the Commissioners of the District of Columbia to exercise their leadership in aiding this most vital program. In his letter to the Governors and Commissioners, General Marshall said:

"The care of the increasing numbers of casualties returning to the United States, together with the acute shortage in nurses and hospital personnel generally, necessitates urgent measures being taken to recruit and rapidly train women for service in Army hospitals. We urgently need WAC units for our sixty general hospitals. Your leadership in recruiting these women will be of great service to the Army."

The WAC needs women qualified for training as technicians in the medical and surgical fields, clerical workers and other skilled women to serve in the care and rehabilitation of soldiers returned from overseas, and to release able-bodied men from technical and administrative duties. Medical and surgical technicians perform various duties in hospital wards and operating rooms, working under the supervision of renowned professional men and women in the Army Medical and Nurses Corps and assisting in the care of the sick, injured and wounded.

Battle casualties are being returned to the United States for treatment at Army general hospitals at the rate of 20,000 a month. "More and more Wacs are continually needed to help share this load, which is the highest the Medical Department has had in the history of the Army. For this purpose, the Army has set up an all-Wac enlisted technicians' school at Wakarusa General Hospital, Camp Atterbury, Indiana, and has established three other technicians' schools, at Beaumont General Hospital, El Paso, Texas, at Fitzsimons General Hospital, Denver, Colorado, and at Brooks General

Farmers Can Apply Now for Dairy Subsidy

All Warren County farmers to whom Dairy Feed subsidy payments were made in the preceding payment period have recently been mailed applications for the November-December subsidy. Any others who have produced and sold whole milk, cream or butter, are also entitled to receive the subsidy of eighty cents a hundred for milk and eleven cents a pound for butter-fat.

To obtain this payment farmers who have not received applications are urged to contact at once the AAA office, 225 Penn'a Ave., W., in Warren where they may be secured. Applications filed after Feb. 28, 1945 will be approved only when the delay is not due to negligence and is caused by reason beyond the control of the applicant. According to present information payment for January-February-March production will be made in one payment in April.

Spartansburg Fire Endangers Building Group

Spartansburg, Jan. 22.—Fire here Thursday afternoon badly damaged the two-story Sandwich Shop building on Main street, entailing a loss estimated at $3,000 to $4,000, partly covered by insurance. The owner, Lella D. Donahay, said the property would be rebuilt as soon as possible, but in the meantime Spartansburg will probably be without a restaurant.

The fire seemed to start from a chimney in the attic, and the first the restaurant staff knew that the building was on fire was when William Biley, who had seen the smoke from across the street, rushed in and gave the alarm. That was about 1:30.

The building is a frame structure and over the restaurant are living quarters occupied by Miss Donahay and her sister, Vera. Virtually nothing was saved from the second floor, but nearly everything was removed from the first floor. Two exceptions were a refrigerator and an oil stove.

Because the restaurant building is one of a group and there was danger of the fire's spreading, it was deemed best to ask that assistance for the local firemen be summoned from Corry. The fire department there sent down a truck. The two groups fought the flames for two hours and a half and prevented their spreading to other property.

Damage to the first floor was principally by water. The building is still in a substantial condition and can be rebuilt as soon as materials are obtained.

The structure was once known as the Goldstein building and was owned until December, 1943, by E. H. Boughton.

A southbound passenger train that already was several hours late was delayed about half an hour and a northbound freight train about fifteen minutes because of fire hose being across the track.

Letters to the Editor

January 17, 1945

Times-Mirror,
Warren, Pa.

The Sixth War Loan was the most successful sales program in the history of the world — total sales amounted to $21,621,000,000. Preliminary Treasury figures show that a greater amount of news and editorial space was devoted to the Sixth Drive, than to any other.

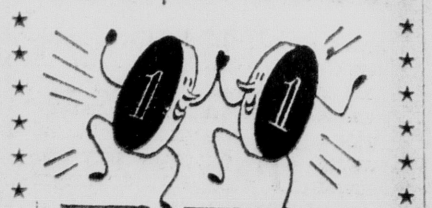

That news, was made by news. In every department of the press of the nation pounded away with powerful front page stories — editorial — special articles — comic strips — comic panels — editorial cartoons — special features — pictures, etc., with the urgent message of our Nation's financial needs.

The proof of the power of that tremendous support by the press is shown in the final sales figures of the greatest of all money raising programs — the Sixth War Loan Drive. To say that newspapers played a vital part in that great effort is not enough. The job that they did in answer to America's call for funds represents an accomplishment that is well worthy of special recognition.

The free press of our Nation has demonstrated again that there is no limitation on what it can accomplish when voluntarily united in a common cause for the benefit of mankind. The American people should feel proud of the job that you have done.

The importance of War Bond sales cannot be overemphasized.

Just remember to take that can of used fats to your butcher. Get 2 red points bonus for each pound. Keep Saving Used Fats for the Fighting Front!

*****

As some of our leaders have said on many occasions, "Next to the actual fighting, the War Bond program is the most vital part of our war effort."

Your cooperation with the Treasury through the Allied Newspaper Council and the Newspaper Editorial Advisory Committee, both under the chairmanship of Frank E. Tripp, is proving most helpful to our program, and all of us here at the Treasury sincerely appreciate the outstanding support that newspapers are giving this vital cause.

Sincerely,

GERMANS ARE FALLING BACK TO SIEGFRIED

Eisenhower's Communique Lists 14 Towns Taken, Nearly All in Belgium and Luxembourg

1ST NEAR DUSSELDORF

Paris, Jan. 22.—(P)—The Nineteenth Tactical Air Force reported the destruction of more than 830 German motor vehicles today in attacks on columns fleeing from the Ardennes.

By JAMES M. LONG

Paris, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Allied warplanes caught 3,000 German vehicles, the bulk of transport of an entire army, in an attempted sneakaway from the Ardennes salient through the Siegfried line to the Rhine, and tore them to pieces today in a ruinous day-long attack.

The planes attacked with bombs, rockets and machine-guns.

The Nazis had waited too long to run the gantlet down the snow-drifted escape roads and were caught on two highways in concentrations so thick that the Allied pilots said afterwards "we couldn't miss."

There was every indication that the ruin would be the greatest since the wounded Wehrmacht fled for the Seine through the Falaise gap. The destruction of equipment promised virtually to immobilize at least one of Field Marshal von Rundstedt's two mobile reserve armies.

U. S. Third Army infantry battled today into Wiltz, the southern anchor of German defense lines running south from St. Vith.

The U. S. First Army closed within two and a half miles of St. Vith. Gen. Eisenhower's communique listed 14 captured towns, nearly all in Belgium and Luxembourg, where the defeated bulge was less than 150 square miles.

The British moved within 35 miles of Dusseldorf and within five miles of the Roer river in a fresh two-mile advance through north-west Germany.

The French First Army driving up the Rhine valley and through the Vosges from Mulhouse was slowed by deep snow. German attacks north of Strasbourg, powered by five or six divisions, and in the ornate Saarland area across the Saar river were declared repulsed.

The whole portentous next phase of the war in the west was slowly taking shape. It was obvious that the powerful influence of the terrific Russian blows against the eastern front was being felt. Gen. Eisenhower's armies and Marshal (Turn to Page Seven)

Forts Brave Wintry Gales To Visit Reich

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—Two hundred Flying Fortresses bombarded a synthetic oil refinery at Sterkrade in the Ruhr today despite howling wintry gales over the continent. The bombers were escorted by 100 Mustang fighters from bases in Britain on the short trip across the Rhine in northwestern Germany.

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—Flying Fortresses and Liberators from Britain braved wintry gales over the continent and bombed targets inside Germany this afternoon. Blizzards checked the pace of the Allied air operations during the morning.

The day raid followed an attack on Kassel, 75 miles south of Hanover, last night by RAF bombers.

Yesterday American heavy bombers from Britain, flying in temperatures as low as 67 degrees below zero, plastered rail targets in southwest Germany while Italy-based bombers attacked objectives in Austria.

Nine hundred U. S. Eighth Air Force Liberators and Fortresses, with an escort of 500 fighters, hit Mannheim, Aschaffenburg, and Heilbronn. A medium force of heavy bombers from the U. S. 15th Air Force skirted the Alps and penetrated as far north as Vienna.

Unfolding Defense Plans Key to War

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—The German defense plan now unfolding in the eastern Reich holds the key to whether the Russian tidal wave, engulfing Poland, Silesia and East Prussia with amazing speed, will end the war quickly.

There are indications the Nazis may have extricated the greater part of their 135 central front divisions in the east and pulled them back into the Reich for a do or die stand before the Oder.

There has been no news of any large pockets of Hitler's troops left behind, nor big supply dumps overrun.

Bills To Aid Returning Vets Up For Action

Harrisburg, Jan. 22.—(P)—Administration bills to aid returning war veterans and to help small business reconvert after the war came up for a vote in the senate today.

The veterans' measures would broaden state laws governing banks and building and loan associations to help returning servicemen buy homes or farms or go into business.

Loans up to $10,000 are authorized to servicemen without down payment when 20 per cent of the loan is guaranteed by the veterans administration under the federal GI bill of rights.

Under present laws, state banks are prohibited from making loans on real estate in excess of two-thirds of the appraised value while building and loan associations are limited to 80 per cent.

A companion measure to cushion reconversion by small business would exempt government-guaranteed loans from a restriction stating that banks cannot make loans for more than 10 per cent of a company's capital and surplus.

Both branches of the assembly planned a three-day session to advance Governor Martin's fiscal and postwar program. Republican leaders said some of the measures may (Turn to Page Seven)

Jersey Man Named To Post in the Navy

Washington, Jan. 22.—(P)—H. Struve Hensel of New Jersey was nominated today by President Roosevelt to be assistant secretary of the navy.

Hensel who has been serving the navy department in a legal capacity on contracts for some three years, will move into the position vacated when Ralph Bard became undersecretary.

Other nominations submitted to the senate included: Aubrey W. Williams of Alabama, former head of the National Youth Administration, to be Rural Electrification Administrator. He would succeed Harry Slattery, who resigned recently under protest.

Edward Jackson Kyle of Texas to be ambassador to Guatemala. Joseph F. McGurk to be ambassador to the Dominican Republic. R. Henry Norweb of Ohio, now ambassador to Portugal, to be ambassador to Panama.

RELIEF ROLL SURVEY

Harrisburg, Jan. 22.—(P)—Relief rolls in Pennsylvania show 84,057 persons receiving old age assistance out of the 205,244 cases still found on the list of public assistance recipients. Robert P. Wray, acting secretary of public assistance, said "lack of resources and work capacities and the infirmities of age make self-support impossible for this sizeable group."

Committee For Anti-Closed Shop Amendment in Labor Bill

Washington, Jan. 22.—(P)—The house military committee wrote an anti-closed-shop amendment into manpower legislation today and refused to specify agriculture as a critical industry.

The amendment, which members said was approved 14 to 10 in a closed session, stipulated that no man taking an industrial job at the request or direction of his draft board shall be required to join a union as a condition of employment.

Opponents contended the amendment, offered by representative Andrews (R-NY), would violate closed or union shop contracts between industry and labor.

TARLAC LEFT DEVASTATED BY JAPANESE

Seizure of Important Rail Junction Puts Yanks Nearly Half Way on Drive to Manila

NEAR CLARK AIRFIELD

By ELMONT WAITE

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Luzon, Jan. 22.—(P)—Tarlac, with its two airfields only 65 air miles from Manila, fell to the swiftly advancing Americans. Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today. The once proud city, most prosperous in the central Luzon plains, was reduced largely to smoking rubble by the fleeing Japanese only a few hours before the Yanks arrived.

Seizure of the important rail and highway junction put the Americans nearly half way to Manila from their Lingayen gulf beachhead and within 22 miles of Clark airfield, largest of the Philippines. Adjacent to Clark Field is Fort Stotsenburg, major military post.

Tarlac, a city of 55,000 including its populous suburbs, was devastated by the Japanese, who evidently sprayed every building with gasoline and applied torches as the Americans approached down two converging highways.

Only bewildered, homeless Filipinos met their Liberators. Seizure of two airfields at Tarlac brought to five the American bases on Luzon for further devastating air blows at Japanese troops and supplies. The largest is at Lingayen.

U. S. Doughboys, pressing eastward toward another good highway to Manila—this one following a circuitous foothill route steering clear of rivers and swampland—captured Victoria and La Paz east of Tarlac.

Farther north, in the long-sloped left flank, they captured Rosales and drove eight miles beyond to the east. They hammered another wedge into the main Manila highway by crassing the winding Agno river at Santa Maria southeast of captured Binalonan. Santa Maria is the easternmost point of penetration. Here they were only seven miles from the foothill highway.

Fighters based at the Lingayen airfield staged a surprise low-level attack on Tuguegarao airfield in the Aparri valley of northeast Luzon, destroying 15 grounded planes.

Long-range patrol bombers reached across the China sea to score a direct hit on a large ship in a convoy off Amoy, China.

Headquarters issued a recapitulation of dead on bloody Leyte island showing 68,839 Japanese have been killed and 692 captured—a ratio of 25 Japanese for one American.

Snowfalls Limit Activities in Italy

Rome, Jan. 22.—(P)—Snowfalls on already snowbound mountain positions limited even patrol activity along the Italian front today—the first anniversary of the historic landings at Anzio.

In the Adriatic sector, an enemy raiding party penetrated two and a half miles into Allied lines northeast of Alfonsine after a heavy artillery barrage, but were thrown back to their original positions by Eighth Army troops.

Further southwest patrols were active on both sides of the Senio river, to which the Germans are clinging as their defense line in the Eighth Army sector.

Nips Reports New Strikes in Pacific

The Tokyo Times reported that some 550 U. S. carrier-borne planes struck at Okinawa island in the Ryuky chain, south of Japan proper, today for the second successive day.

The report was not acknowledged by U. S. sources.

Today's attack began early in the morning, the broadcast monitored by the Federal Communications Commission said.

It admitted that Okinawa's installations had suffered damage but reiterated that the losses were "light." Forty-five of the attacking planes were claimed shot down and 34 damaged.

This is one of the largest raids that Tokyo has ever reported. (Turn to Page Seven)

Woman Found Asphyxiated At N. Warren

Miss Arlene Nelson, 50, an employee of the Solar Electric Corp., was found dead in the bath room of her apartment on the first floor of a dwelling in the rear of 17 Street North Warren, about eleven o'clock this morning. A burner attached to a hot water boiler in the small room was turned on so high that flames were blazing up the sides of the heater and it was apparent that she died from accidental asphyxiation from burned fumes.

Discovery of the tragedy was made by E. H. Jones and Mrs. Andrew Brooks, who with her husband occupies the second floor of the building, when they became alarmed over the fact that she had not been observed during the morning. They found the body in a sitting position on a stool in the bath room, with all rooms filled with the fumes from the stove. A physician was called and after examination decided Miss Nelson had been dead for some time. Doctor Ed Lowrey said a certificate of death from accidental asphyxiation will be issued.

Miss Nelson was heard about the apartment Sunday morning, and later in the afternoon. She had soaked in the bath tub some clothing when she evidently planned to wash out, and there was a roast in an iron skillet on the kitchen stove, still untouched. It is believed death ensued some time late Sunday afternoon.

Miss Nelson was born in Farmington township, September 28, 1895, and had resided in the section all her life. She was a daughter of (Turn to Page Seven)

Hearing Held On Sylvania Wage Issue

Pittsburgh, Jan. 22.—(P)—The War Labor Board today conducted a hearing on disputed issues arising from negotiation of a first contract between Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., and local 611 of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, CIO, at Altoona.

The issues, as stated by the union, include excusable absences, seniority, wages, military service clause, probationary period, grievance procedure and pay, and retroactivity.

The panel decision will directly affect about 2,177 workers in the Sylvania plant at Altoona, and indirectly affect about 21,500 company employees in 24 plants, the company asserts.

Decision to Oust Jones In Favor of Wallace Threatens Bitter Fight in Congress

Washington, Jan. 22.—(P)—Henry A. Wallace called for "full and efficient employment" throughout the nation today, as opposition to his appointment as secretary of commerce spread on Capitol Hill.

Even before his nomination to take over the job of protesting Jesse Jones reached the senate, the former vice president issued a statement saying:

"I am happy that the president has named me to a position providing for continuous activity in the public welfare."

"In the highly geared world of today and tomorrow, there must be full and efficient employment throughout the nation."

The senate received Wallace's formal nomination from the White House shortly after it convened at noon.

Wallace laid down a four-point program in which he declared that "opportunity for free enterprise among business men must be expanded, particularly among small business men."

In the face of pleas from such men as Senators Connally (D-Tex) and Bailey (D-NC) that Jones be kept on at least in his capacity as head of the vast federal financing agencies, the president called for and received the latter's bitter but full acquiescence.

"I must accede to your decision," said Jones in a letter emphasizing that "I cannot agree" that Wallace, until Saturday the vice president, would be a good man for the job.

Mr. Roosevelt had written Jones that "Henry Wallace deserves almost any service which he believes he can satisfactorily perform."

"I told him this," the president's letter continued, "at the end of the campaign, in which he displayed the utmost devotion to our cause, traveling almost incessantly and working for the success of the ticket in a great many parts of the country. Though not on the ticket himself, he gave of his utmost toward the victory which ensued."

Mr. Roosevelt wanted to hand out a cabinet post "as a reward for his support of you in the campaign."

Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex) said it "has the appearance of a new deal political payoff appointment, dictated by Sidney Hillman and his Communist comrades who are running the country."

The Jones-Roosevelt letters, dated January 20, inauguration day, were (Turn to Page Seven)

Nazi Broadcast Calls on All In Nation to Defend Reich

By JAMES F. KING
London, Jan. 22.—(P)—A call went out over the German armed forces radio today for everyone in the nation to join this "holy battle for liberty" as Russian forces sweeping into Silesia drove to a point approximately six hours by fast express from Berlin.

"Dammed by our enemies. This soulless, bestial, overwhelming mass onslaught must be held at all costs," the announcer shouted. He demanded that "every man who can carry any kind of weapon, in fact anybody who can shoot," join in defense of the Reich.

The Nazis themselves in home broadcasts did not try to conceal that "the hour of greatest peril to the fatherland has struck," and for the first time admitted that Berlin itself is threatened by the Russian offensive.

"If the Russians capture Poznan (in western Poland) then the threat to Berlin enters the acute stage," said a Berlin dispatch to the Stockholm Aftonbladet passed by Nazi censorship.

This correspondent quoted German military spokesmen as admitting that the Russians had succeeded in bringing masses of infantry forward "faster than expected" and that reserves thrown into the battle are "mainly Volksturm (homeguard) formations."

Indicating the confusion caused (Turn to Page Seven)

TWO SOVIET ARMIES DRIVING INTO OLD JUNKERS PROVINCE ARE BUT EIGHTY MILES APART

Fall of Key City and Railway Center is Announced by Premier Stalin in 18th Order of Day Within Past Week

BULLETINS

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—Soviet troops have captured Inowclaw, only 61 miles from Poznan (Posen) and 193 from Berlin, Premier Stalin announced tonight.

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—The Russians have driven to the Deutsch Eylau area, 45 miles from the Baltic in East Prussia, and to the Allenstein area, 30 miles inside the junkers province, the German high command said today.

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—Alexandrow, six miles northeast of Lodz, has been captured, Premier Marshal Stalin announced tonight.

By the Associated Press

London, Jan. 22.—(P)—Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky's Third White Russian Army has captured Insterburg, second city of East Prussia, Marshal Stalin announced today, and the German communique indicated that two Soviet armies driving into the old junkers province from southwest and northeast were only 80 miles apart.

A junction would slice the stronghold of Prussian militarism in two. Insterburg, a city of 40,000, is only 50 miles from Königsberg, the capital of East Prussia, and is 37 miles inside the province.

Stalin announced the fall of the key railway center in his 18th order of the day in six days, and praised 40 generals for taking part in the capture.

Moscow dispatches said Cherniakhovsky's tanks had blazed a path to within 26 miles of Königsberg on the northeast in a conquest which was overrunning almost half the rich old province of Prussian estates.

Apparently this was in the neighborhood of the lower end of the Kurisches Haff, coastal lagoon.

Berlin called for a defense of the Reich by all Germans who can handle a weapon. Marshal Stalin's five great armies, smashing along an 800-mile front from the Baltic to Budapest, bore down on Berlin from 195 miles at two places and rolled over many German towns and villages in Silesia 28 miles from Breslau, Adolf Hitler's ninth city.

Only a square of northwestern Polish territory about 100 miles wide and 160 miles long remained as a buffer between Stalin's massed forces and the length of the German frontier.

The German communique internally admitted the Soviet capture of Tannenberg, East Prussian military shrine, by announcing that Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky's Second White Russian army was piling up pressure in the Deutsch Eylau-Allenstein area in the southwestern part of East Prussia.

The armistice provides for Allied use against Germany of all Hungarian facilities and anything the Germans may have left behind, including information and plans.

Russia is to have the chairmanship of the Allied control commission in Hungary and the Soviet command will be responsible for carrying out the Allied stipulations, as Hungary is in the Russian zone of operations.

However, it is understood that Britain and the United States have received informal assurances from Russia that the commission will be considerably more of a three-way affair than it is in the other defeated Balkans. There are American and British representatives in Bulgaria and Romania, but they have occasionally complained of being bypassed by their Soviet colleagues.

The armistice with Hungary was signed in Moscow Saturday, and Russia will keep the original document. Marshal Klement Voroshilov represented the three major Allies at the ceremony.

One of the main points of discussion among the Allies was the reparations provision. Hungary has six years in which to pay $200,000,000 American dollars worth of goods to Russia and $100,000,000 to Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

POMONA AGAINST DRAFT

Stoystown, Jan. 22.—(P)—Drafting of farm labor into the armed forces would greatly curtail production and injure the war effort, declared a resolution adopted by Pomona Grange, which represents a large portion of Somerset county farmers. The Grange also urged congress to forbid use of grain for making alcoholic liquor, ban sale of spirits to service men, and reject plans for compulsory military training in peacetime.

CIGARET CAUSES FATALITY

Greensburg, Jan. 22.—(P)—Mrs. Donna Tevelin, about 35, burned to death yesterday in her home, apparently from a lighted cigarette which had dropped among bed covers. She had recently undergone an operation.

KILLED BY TRUCK

Hazleton, Jan. 22.—(P)—A truck killed Audrey Gelgot, 5, of Drums R. D., near here, Saturday.

Two Soldiers Known Here Are Reported Missing in Action

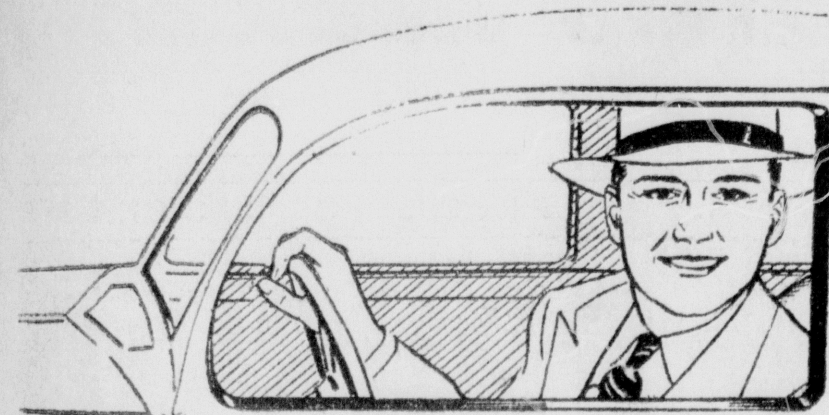

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Nelson, of Lander, received a telegram from the War Department on Sunday informing them that their son, Pfc. Virgil Nelson, has been missing in action in France since January 6.

Pfc. Nelson entered the service on February 28, 1943, and went overseas with his infantry unit in August, 1944.

He has two other brothers in the service, Cpl. Harold, also in France, and Cpl. Alfred, at Camp McClellan, Ala.

Word has also reached here from Brocton, N. Y., that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cangelosi, formerly of Warren, received word on Saturday evening that their son, Lt. Anthony Cangelosi, has been missing in action in the South Pacific area since December 24.

TO GET FEDERAL AID

State Senator L. E. Chapman and Assemblyman Allen Gibson have gone to Harrisburg to attend the session of the state legislature this week. Senator Chapman anticipates that the bill he introduced for appropriating $100,000 for cancer research will be passed soon and signed by Governor Edward Martin. It is also expected that on the signing of the bill appropriating the funds from the state, the federal government will come to the aid of the project with a substantial sum. It is aimed to open a hospital in the state for the treatment of persons suffering from the disease. In introducing the bill, Senator Chapman made some brief remarks setting forth the need for the institution and outlining the facts which he had garnered from conferences with Surgeon General Parran of the United States.

AP Newsfeatures

When President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, Marshal Stalin and possibly General De Gaulle get together in their expected meeting soon, they will have a large number of troublesome questions on Europe's postwar status to talk over. The map above shows some of the major questions. It is possible that another big one—whether Russia will join the war against Japan—also will be discussed.

Bandit Choked and Robbed H. A. Hahn Last Friday Night

H. A. Hahn, 1309 Pennsylvania avenue, west reported to Police Headquarters Saturday afternoon that while on his way to his home Friday evening he was robbed of $90. According to the story told to the police Hahn was walking along the avenue near Pine street, when he was stopped by a man. The fellow grabbed him by the neck and choked him in such a way that Hahn's neck is still giving him trouble. The assailant threw the man to the sidewalk and went through his pockets taking his money and valuables. After the robbery the thief ran down Pine street and disappeared.

Hahn was able to give the police a fair description of the fellow who committed the robbery telling of how he was dressed, etc.

Police immediately began work on the matter and have run down a number of clues none of which as yet have been productive of results. Several have been questioned relative to the matter but all have stoutly denied their guilt or any implication in the affair.

However police are still at work on the matter and it is expected that they will solve the matter in a satisfactory manner.

Hahn is employed as a roofer with a local firm.

Woodsmen of This Section Burned in Fire Near Corry

Two woodsmen from the Sheffield-Kane sector, Frank Vidmer, 62, and Frank Stancic, 48, were burned to death in a fire which shortly after 12:30 Sunday morning destroyed a woods camp boarding house on the Nollinger-Peterson timber tract about 2 1/2 miles from Corry.

Just what started the fire will perhaps never be known, but shortly after 12:30 Sunday morning Joseph Prudich, 41, of Corry, was awakened by the crackle of flames and ran down stairs shouting "Fire!" He awakened the landlady, Mrs. Louis Grezina, and the two went outside and by yelling endeavored to awaken the men asleep upstairs. John Szet, 37, came to a window and jumped outside, sustaining some burns and injuries about the back. Frank Vidmer came to the window and evidently went back to get valuables and was not seen again. Stancic was not seen by anyone and had evidently been overcome by smoke. Vidmer and Stancic were from the Sheffield-Kane district and had been employed at one of the woods camps in that section, but had gone to the Nollinger-Peterson job some weeks ago.

The husband of the landlady and three of their children were not at home at the time of the fire. The husband had a severe sprained ankle and was in Corry taking treatments and staying at the European Hotel. An older daughter had a fractured collar bone and was also taking treatment in Corry. Two boys had gone in stay all night with their father and sisters and to attend a picture show, so they all escaped.

When the building tumbled in with a roar, Mrs. Grezina and the two surviving men started to walk to the Nollinger home, a half mile away, through the snow and cold. They were met by Nollinger and two other men who had been attracted by the flames. Mrs. Grezina is suffering from shock and the cold, as she escaped only in her night gown and without shoes or slippers. She states that she lost several hundred dollars in currency and Victory Bonds in the fire. Prudich was treated for third degree burns at the Corry Hospital.

Letter From Chaplain to Local Mother

Mrs. Ella Mauk, 210 Pennsylvania avenue, east, has received the following self-explanatory communication from Maury Hundley, Jr., chaplain of the 121st Infantry Regiment:

"Dear Mrs. Mauk:
"The Regimental Commander, the Officers and Men of the 121st Infantry Regiment wish to express their deepest sympathy to you and your family in the loss of your son, Pfc. Wallace L. Mauk, 33298404, Company B, 121st Infantry, who was killed in action in France on July 14, 1944.

"Your son was performing his duty in a most courageous and excellent manner and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. We want you to know that you are not alone in your loss, for it was ours also. Our prayer is that God may be close to you in your sorrow and through His grace you may find comfort. A Protestant service was held for your son, by an Army Chaplain, at the grave, which is in a U. S. Military cemetery, Normandy, France."

An article appearing in this paper on August 3, 1944, reported that Pfc. Mauk had been killed in action in France on July 13. According to a special report just received here, Brig. Gen. Robert D. Knapp, commanding officer of a 12th AAF B-25 bomber wing, recently decorated S/Sgt. Anthony W. Lucia, of Warren, with the Air Medal.

Sgt. Lucia, son of Gabriel Lucia, 1307 Hill street, has flown on bombing missions over France and Italy and, in addition to the Air Medal, wears the Distinguished Unit badge and a battle star for Italy.

OCEAN OF AIR

Humans live in a great ocean of air, walking along on the bottom, like crabs on the floor of the sea, and if they ascend too far they die, just as do deep sea creatures when taken too near the surface of the ocean.

An orange in every overseas serviceman's Christmas stocking was assured by an order from the California Fruit Growers Exchange that shipments to military camps take top priority.

Stray Leaves From Notebook Of Reporter About Town

Don Smith, East Side purveyor of pills and nostrums the other day in rummaging through some stock that had been kicking around the store for some years ran across a label. It was yellowed with age and bore the wording "Glade Drug and Variety Store". The proprietor was listed as F. H. Dixon and the store was located at Elm and Pennsylvania avenue.

Bet you can remember that store. The big glass bottles in the window filled with colored water that excited imagination of the kids as to whether or not it might be a new flavored castor oil. And then, too, the store belied the fact that the old time drug store did not have everything from needles and pins to the best seller in the fiction line. It was really some emporium of health and happiness and handled and sold a "variety" of things that kept the digestion good and the disposition sweet.

Pete Fanarties, who is not one of the oldest citizens but who by keeping his ears open while engaged in putting "everything on 'em" has garnered more than his share of information about men and things locally recalled a good tale yesterday. It seems that back in the days when prohibition was a red rag to the guy with a thirst one Warren bird got hold of a batch of alcohol. He had it manufactured into ten gallons of assorted whiskey and a bit of cognac. Then a little suspicious of it he went sampling of the mess until he generously gave a fellow a quart and then watched results. The fellow lived so the experimenter concluded the stuff was safe.

One five gallon keg was kept out for immediate use and it was decided to age the other five gallons in the breast of Mother Earth. The fellow owned a camp high up in the mountain near Scandia and he loaded the tonic in his car and hid away. He took the keg up on the hill to a spot he thought he knew and digging a hole buried it. The next day it snowed and when the thaw came the signs leading to identification of the burial grounds were all obliterated. Search has failed to bring the keg to light and lips. So if you have a thirst and want to do a little prospecting get out on the hills and do a still hunt. That stuff really ought to be good as it was buried over 20 years ago.

Three in Unit Commended By Their Head

By special dispatch from Peninsular base headquarters in Italy comes the news that three Warren county men are members of an engineer boat regiment which has recently been inactivated in the Italian theatre, but, prior to its disbanding, achieved a superb record which won the particular commendation of Col. Francis H. Oxx, commanding officer of the base section, which is the vital supply and services organization for the Fifth Army.

The local men, all in a tank lighter company, are T/5 Frank C. Russo, Warren; Pvt. Clair A. Winger, Sheffield; and T/5 Charles N. Brant, Kinzua.

Col. Oxx has this to say of the unit:

"The splendid record that has been achieved and the traditions and spirit which have been built in the twenty-eight months of the organization's existence are an example to all in this united effort to defeat our enemies. The Regiment has operated in twenty-five ports in the British Isles, Africa and on the European continent and its islands. The task under such conditions of dispersal has been exceptionally difficult operationally, administratively, and particularly in regard to the welding of an esprit and pride of organization which will go forward to join other units and carry on new missions, but they may all know that their former unit stands out among combat and service regiments alike as having performed an exceptionally meritorious service to its country and the Allied cause."

Pvt. Crocker Is One of Four In the Service

Women's branches of service are well represented in the family of Pvt. Margaret K. Crocker, of Clarendon, taking basic training at the Third WAC training center at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., for she has three cousins in service representing the WAC, the WAVE and the SPAR.

Two of the cousins, sisters from Warren, are L 3/c Autumn Ettinger, with the SPARS at Clarendon, Md., and AMM 1/c Adelaide Ettinger, with a WAVE unit at the Livermore, Calif., naval air base. The other cousin is Pvt. Dorothy Ettinger, of the WAC, stationed in New Guinea.

Upon completion of basic training, Pvt. Crocker will receive special training as a surgical technician. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd R. Crocker, of Clarendon.

Have you seen our friend Lewis Jamieson recently? Lewis has not been in tip top health for months past, but is now out again and is resuming his legal practice, spending a few hours each day at his office. He has shed a lot of avaricious, but, of all things, he has gone and raised a goose, which gives him a most distinguished look. At first glance you might think it was Buffalo Bill or Capt. Jack Crawford who is confronting you, but back of the hirsute adornment is our friend Lewis. And it all goes to show that not only the boys in the service raise beards.

Tomorrow is going to be marked by the rustling of a lot of grains in the sands of time, as George Haehn, William V. Geer, Clem Stokes and Squire Tom Cook all pass another milestone. All of the boys have been with us for quite a spell and all of them have acquired a batch of friends who will be darned glad to stick out their hands and wish 'em more and more years. It's a great thing to have a birthday, but when a fellow gets along to the place where the old joints begin to creak and longing eyes are cast at a useful can, then it's time to stop havin' 'em. None of the boys who celebrate tomorrow are the least bit decrepit and any one of the four can do a double shuffle or cut a pigeon wing.

C. Elmer Samuelson, one of the boys who lugs the letters around and collects postage due, showed Bert Erickson, of the Banner Grocery something Saturday that caused Bert's eyes to pop. It was just about the lowest bit of crookedness that can be found—a counterfeit penny. The coin was just about half as thick and not so big around as a regular penny. What a heck of a lot of 'em it must take to make an impression on the bank roll of the crook who would waste valuable time making phony cents. Boy, if we were gonna get busy with counterfeits, it would be big bills or something that really counted. However, Uncle Sam's buzz saw isn't a good thing to monkey with, so guess we will continue to get the regular pay check, even if it is depleted by the withholding tax.

Their smokes are packed in petroleum!

Fresh cigarettes are mighty important to the GI's who fight in heat, rain, flood and mud. And they're wanted on the home front, too.

Materials once used for cigarette packaging were drafted for war. But they're not missed now by smokers whose favorite brands come in paper packages protected with Atlantic Refining Company's Amprol 8.

Paper laminated with Amprol 8 has proved to be an excellent inner wrap for cigarettes. It keeps freshness in and climate out. It is tough and durable. It resists breaking, tearing, splitting.

The development of Amprol 8 from petroleum by Atlantic's Research Division is a neat feat of wartime science. And protecting soldiers' smokes is only one of its many assignments.

Its BIG job is strengthening and waterproofing the heavy wrapping paper that guards machinery and war products against corrosion. It is also used as a lubricant for wire rope. New demands are producing other new uses.

The same research that gave you metal-saving Amprol 8 is working for you daily. New products made from crude petroleum, new improvements in old processes are continuously evolved at Atlantic.

This is research to help win the war—and to bring you finer petroleum products for peacetime use.

FOURTH INAUGURATION

Franklin D. Roosevelt began his fourth presidential term Saturday with a pledge that "we shall work for a just and durable peace as we work and fight for a total victory in war."

"We can and we will achieve such a peace," Mr. Roosevelt said after taking the oath of office in an unprecedented ceremony on the south portico of the White House. Before him the smallest inaugural crowd in years had scuffed a light snow off the White House lawn. About him were gathered the government's top leaders—including the new vice president, Harry Truman, of Missouri.

The text of probably the shortest inaugural address in history follows:

Mr. Chief Justice, Mr. Vice President—my friends: You will understand and, I believe, agree with my wish that the form of this inauguration be simple and its words brief.

We Americans of today, together with our Allies, are passing through a period of supreme test. It is a test of our courage—of our resolve—of our wisdom—of our essential decency.

If we meet that test—successfully and honorably—we shall perform a service of historic importance which men and women and children will honor throughout all time.

As I stand here today, having taken the solemn oath of office in the presence of my fellow countrymen—in the presence of our God—I know that it is America's purpose that we shall not fail.

In the days and the years that are to come we shall work for a just and durable peace as today we work and fight for total victory in war.

We can and we will achieve such a peace.

We shall strive for perfection. We shall not achieve it immediately—but we still shall strive. We may make mistakes—but they must never be mistakes which result from faintness of heart or abandonment of moral principle.

I remember that my old schoolmaster said, in days that seemed to us then to be secure and untroubled: "Things in life will not always run smoothly. Sometimes we will be rising toward the heights—then all will seem to reverse itself and start downward. The great fact to remember is that the trend of civilization itself is forever upward; that a line drawn through the middle of the peaks and valleys of the centuries always has an upward trend."

Our constitution of 1787 was not a perfect instrument; it is not perfect yet. But it provided a firm base on which all manner of men, of all races and colors and creeds, could build our solid structure of democracy.

Today in this year of war, 1945, we have learned lessons—at a fearful cost—and we shall profit by them.

We have learned that we cannot live alone, at peace; that our own well-being is dependent on the well-being of other nations—far away. We have learned that we must live as men, not as ostriches, nor as dogs in the manger.

We have learned the simple truth as Emerson said, that "the only way to have a friend is to be one."

We can gain no lasting peace if we approach it with suspicion and mistrust—and with fear. We can gain it only if we proceed with the understanding and confidence and courage which flow from conviction.

The Almighty God has blessed our land in many ways. He has given our people stout hearts and strong arms with which to strike mighty blows for freedom and truth. He has given to our country a faith which has become the hope of all peoples in an anguished world.

We pray now to Him for the vision to see our way clearly—to see the way that leads to a better life for ourselves and for all our fellow men—to the achievement of His will to peace on earth.

GERMAN POSITION PRECARIOUS

Germany's position in the path of the Red avalanche hourly becomes more grim, news dispatches from the eastern front over the weekend emphasize.

Muscovite forces have bludgeoned their way into German industrial Silesia on the road to Breslau, important railway center and next to Berlin the greatest city in Prussia. They've stormed into East Prussia and captured Tannenberg, scene of Russia's greatest defeat in the last war and Valhalla of the Prussian militarism which the Allies have vowed to destroy as the curse of Europe. The Red war machine is driving the Hitlerites before it across the frozen plains of Poland towards the borders of the Reich.

How long can the Germans hold out against this terrific offensive—an onslaught unprecedented in history for weight and intensity?

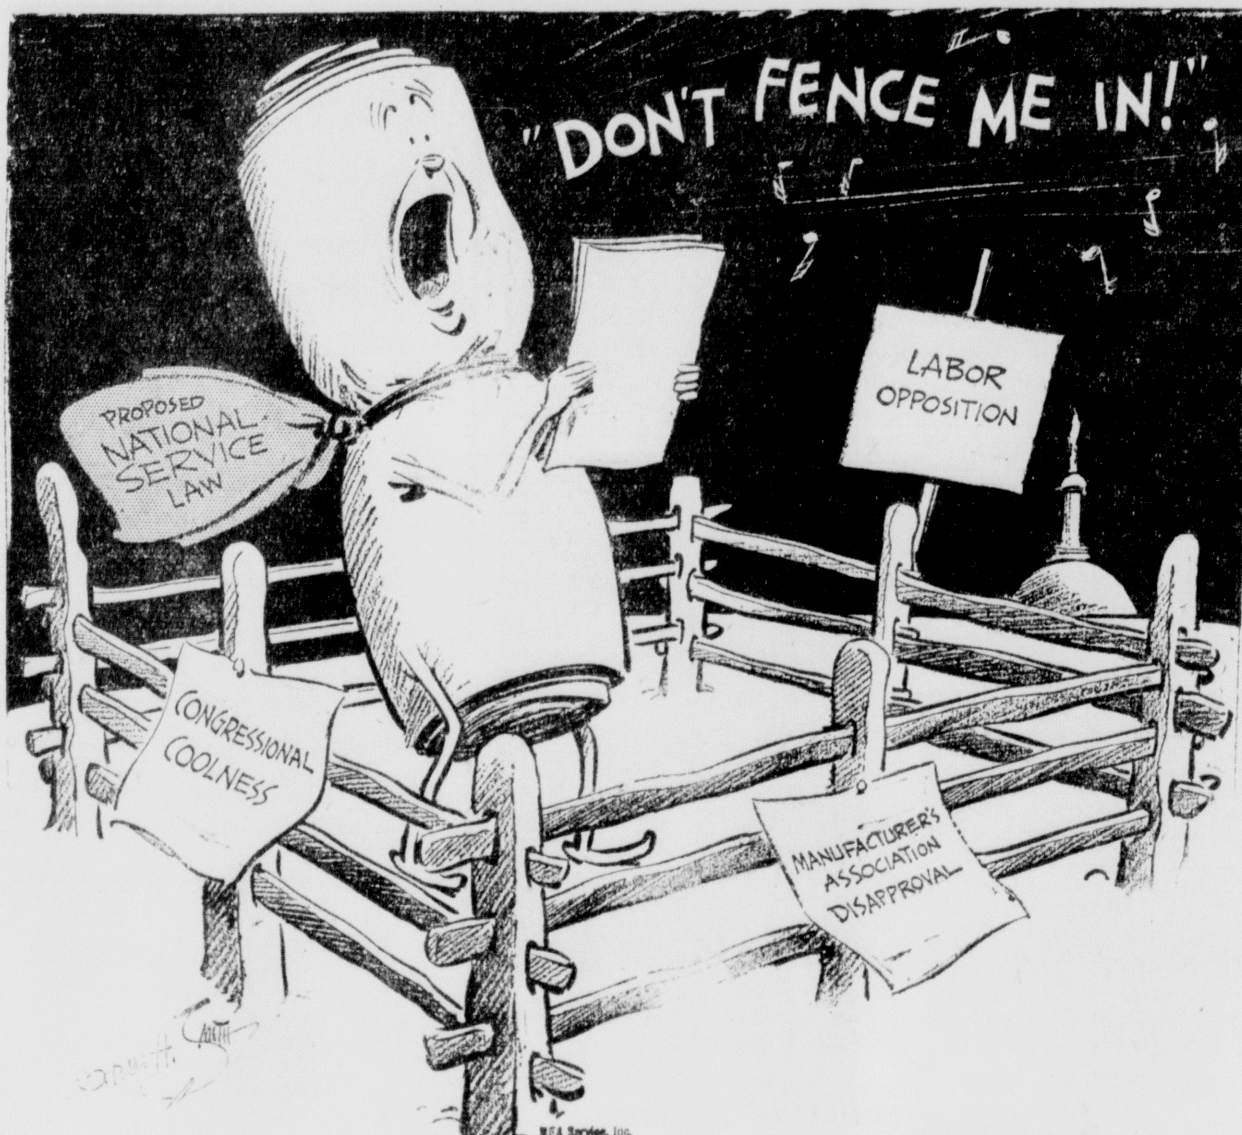

In trying to find an answer DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press war analyst says "we must not forget certain basic facts which we long have known about German purposes and the strategy they intend to employ in an effort to achieve those purposes. Emphatically we shouldn't jump to the conclusion—as many did when the Nazis began their great retreat from Normandy—that the war will be over in a few days."

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

And many nations shall be joined to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people; and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto thee.—Zechariah 2:11.

Nothing can bring you peace but yourself. Nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles.—Emerson.

Chapter 29

THERE were two or three cars in the drive and Rosalie wrinkled her nose disdainfully, and said, "The curious have already started to gather. Under the guise of being friendly and neighborly they are snooping like mad to find out the whole truth."

The door was opened to them by a plump little woman, her dark eyes snapping, her manner self-important.

"Oh, good morning, Mr. Prather. Hello, Rosalie!" she greeted them briskly. "I'm afraid Isabel can't see anybody this morning."

But Rosalie merely grinned cheerfully, and said, "Oh, I think Isabel will see us, Mrs. Burke. Is she in her room?"

"Well, I guess it will be all right for you to go up," said Mrs. Burke reluctantly. "But you surely can't, Mr. Prather."

"Who said he wanted to?" Rosalie countered. "Wait in the living room, Hugh. I'll send Isabel down."

"Well!" said Mrs. Burke, obviously resentful of Rosalie's manner.

ISABEL came so lightly into the room that he was not aware of her presence until she spoke. "Good morning, Mr. Prather," she said quietly. "I was expecting you. You want my father's keys, of course."

She turned towards a desk, but Hugh, puzzled, stopped her and asked, "What would I want with your father's keys, child?"

She set her teeth hard in her lower lip for a moment to still his trembling before she answered him in that steady, almost harsh young voice. "You will, of course, find the evidence you need among his papers—probably in the safe."

"Isabel, you poor child," Hugh said compassionately. "I came out here this morning for no reason in the world but to tell you that what happened last night at my house—"

save just the three or four of us who already know should ever know anything but that your father destroyed himself in a fit of temporary aberration."

"You—you mean you're not going to broadcast—about—about the taverns and all—?" she whispered so faintly that he could barely catch the words.

"Of course not, child! Why should we?" asked Hugh vigorously.

"You—you're swell!" she said unsteadily. "No wonder Dr. Merry loves you so!"

HUGH beamed at her. "Now it's my turn to say 'thanks!' he said lightly.

"But I have been thinking, Mr. Prather," she told him. There was a little color now, faint as a wild rose, in her smooth cheeks. "I read in the newspapers a few days ago that the women who have taken the Nurses' Aide course with the Red Cross, and serve one hundred and fifty hours in the hospital where they trained, are eligible for service in army hospitals. I thought if I went down to Atlanta and took that course, and then served in a hospital there—I couldn't stay in River Gap, Mr. Prather, not now!—why, then, maybe, I could serve in a military hospital!"

She looked up eagerly at Hugh, and he said quickly, "I think that's a swell idea. I don't know whether you could possibly be assigned to Jerry's hospital, when you've finished your training, but I'll promise you one thing: Dr. Nichols and Captain Gordon and Dr. Merry and anybody else we can contact will do everything humanly possible to get you there!"

IT FELL to Meredith, of course, to tell Jerry of Dan Lacey's death.

Jerry listened to her quietly, and when she had finished, he said through his teeth. "So it never came out about him and the moon-shiners!"

He looked up at her startled face and added, ironically, "Or did it?" Meredith asked, "What do you mean, Jerry?"

Jerry looked a trifle derisive. "Mean to say you weren't even suspicious? I was suspicious as the dickens!" he admitted baldly. "But I didn't have anything but suspicion to go on. After all, he was Isabel's father and he'd been very decent to me, and unless I had positive proof, I couldn't feel it was my duty to rat on him!"

Meredith was very still for a moment.

The boy who sat before her, no longer bedridden, but now able to spend all his waking hours in a wheelchair, and even to go for short walks through the beautiful kept grounds, bore slight resemblance to the white-faced, hostile, bitter-tongued boy she had brought here so much against his will. He had gained a few pounds of weight, and he was sun-browned to the color of old leather; the angry, hostile look was gone from his eyes now and they were eager, hopeful, almost daring to look ahead to happiness.

HE looked at Meredith and she asked, "Isabel? What's she going to do?"

Meredith smiled. "Take a Nurses' Aide course, serve her hundred and fifty hours probationary period as fast as the hospital will let her, and then ask to be allowed to do duty in a military hospital. Preferably, of course, this one, though I'm not at all sure that can be done."

Jerry's young face lit up with a great happiness.

"Sounds like her," he said warmly, and then roughly, "I ought to be there with her, helping her through a time like this. She was always out about her Dad. This is a very bad time for her."

"She's asked to be allowed to serve twelve hours daily, seven days a week, until she completes her training, Jerry," Meredith told him.

She rose, but at the door she paused to say over her shoulder, "Oh, by the way, the election is over in River Gap—my husband won! He's now the mayor!"

Headlines Give Wrong Impression Of Girl Scouts

Due to a mistake in headlines in the Times-Mirror on Friday, readers who are not closely connected with either agency might well believe that the Girl Scouts are part of the Y.W.C.A. activities. This is not the case. There is no connection at all between the Girl Scouts and the Y. W. C. A. The Girl Scouts, together with a number of other organizations, use the facilities that are offered by the Y. W. C. A. for large meetings in a non-sectarian building.

The meetings of Troop 100 composed of all adults in Girl Scouting, must use such a non-sectarian meeting place in order that leaders and council members of all faiths may be free to attend.

Miss Elizabeth Figuer, who will be present at the meeting of Girl Scout Troop 100 at its meeting at the Y.W.C.A. on Tuesday evening, a member of the Girl Scout national staff, a former executive secretary in Bethlehem, Pa., Miss Figuer has traveled widely in this country and in Europe. She brings the local Girl Scout leaders and council members a wealth of experience to share in her short stay in Warren.

The meeting on Tuesday evening will be preceded by a three dinner at 6:30 p. m. to which all adults in Girl Scouting and any other interested people are invited.

Zero weather may be partly to blame for the drop in Saturday's street collection as many people simply shook their heads and said, "Sorry. Too Cold." when girls presented coin collectors to citizens who were hurrying to work early that morning.

Many of these people believe that many of these people will find other ways to give their bit to help boys and girls who suffer from infantile paralysis.

The total collected by 51 girls on Warren streets on Saturday was $441.86. Virginia Johnson was in top place in collections and well earned her prize of $3.00 in war savings stamps which is given by the Zonta Club from its own treasury. Doris Evan was second with a prize of $2.00. Rachel Smith was third high and will receive $1.00.

The goal for this year is $3500 which is all too low to meet outstanding bills and have a fund to use during the coming year. Of this $1750 is the amount which would stay in the county. Any amount less than that figure will hamper the work for the next 12 months. Special gifts and the theatre collections will need to be unusually generous in order to meet the goal.

Watson Memorial Home on Conewango avenue, reported 100 per cent donations and Thompson Hill school, with seven pupils registered, turned in $10.

Dragons Trounce Titusville; Licked by Red and Green

Retain Lead in Section Two; Poor Showing in Jamestown Battle On Saturday Night

The Warren High varsity split even in its weekend engagements, running rampant over the Titusville Rockets, 45-24, but losing to a superior Jamestown club, 45-31, on the Red and Greens' hard-won Saturday night. The locals now have 8 wins and 3 losses, two of them to the upstarters and one to Bradford.

Joe Scallise and George Lucia sparked the Dragon attack on the Beauty court Friday night, Scallise dropping in 13 points and Lucia 10. Joe Massa's courtsters had little trouble in annexing their

Local Seconds Increase Total To Seven Wins

Warren High's Second team added two more wins to their credit this season to make a total of seven wins against one loss, dubbing the Titusville second stringers, 45-18, and edging out a two-point victory over Jamestown junior varsity in a "sudden death" period.

Jim Farrell and Jim Scallise took top honors in the Titusville fray, scoring 12 and 11 markers, respectively. The Titusvillers went down under the crushing junior Dragon advance and couldn't manage to come anywhere near the local calibre.

The battle encountered on Red and Green court Saturday was a long, drawn out affair which turned into a continuous march to the free throw lane with four Warren boys being ousted from the game via the new, "five fouls and out" method. Nystrom, Farrell, Simmons, and Reed all felt the effects of the new ruling as they marched out of the game, all in the last period.

The Jimtowners jumped off to a 14-7 first quarter lead, but the locals retaliated with a deadly eye for the basket to come out at half-time on the long end of a 20-10 count. The Dragons continued their margin, 35-30 at the third stanza mark. The fourth quarter developed into a fight-to-the-finish, and the finish was a long way off. The opponents scored 13 points to tie the ball game at 43-43 when the final whistle blew.

Going into a three minute overtime period, Jamestown dropped in a basket which looked like the winning point, but Vesco and Wollaston each responded with a two-pointer as the locals went ahead. Two foul shots put the game in another deadlock at the finish of the overtime period. It was "whoever scores first, wins" in the sudden death period. Both teams shot wildly at the hoop before Jim Scallise smashed through for a lay-up shot to end the game with the Dragons on top, 49-47.

Deutsches Eylau in East Prussia is only 45 miles from the Baltic and 64 miles southeast of Danzig.

Allenstein, to the northeast, is 30 miles inside East Prussia and the fighting in that area represented the deepest penetration of the province from that direction.

It was evident that the Russian offensive was rolling on unchecked for the deepest penetration announced by Moscow was about 19 miles.

Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian army was getting the upper hand in a big tank battle between the Warta and Prosna rivers and pushed to within 200 miles of Berlin.

Zhukov was fighting for routes into Poznan (Posen) and the German frontier just beyond. His tanks, by striking through strong Panzer units moved out to halt him, have gotten closer to the German capital than any land army in this war.

The First Ukrainian army under Marshal Ivan S. Konev achieved great strategic success in breaking the first line thrown up by the Germans east of the Oder. It stretched through Oels, Namslau and Kreuzberg, down to Beuthen and was entered in at least five places.

Konev's tanks are now about 14 miles from the main railway connecting Silesia with Berlin.

Russian columns pushed within 35 miles of Breslau and were reported causing great panic throughout the entire area.

(From Page One)

by the rapid Red army advance, a German commentator said: "German listeners, I cannot tell you where the front runs, where are reserves are, or where the Volksturm are thrown in."

The commentator's description of scene inside Berlin indicated rumors were sweeping the capital and hysteria growing.

A strange announcement preceded the regular home news broadcast today when the announcer said "The Reich's railway councilor, Heinrich Grossmuller, here-with is asked immediately to communicate with the Reich's railway ministry."

Decision to Oust Jones In Favor of Wallace

Washington, Jan. 22—(P)—A move to strip Henry A. Wallace of control over federal loan and financing agencies as commerce secretary was started in the senate today by Finance Committee Chairman George (D-Ga.).

released by the secretary last night. He refused to discuss them further, the White House had nothing to say and Wallace was not reachable for comment.

Jones, as did several senators who backed him, spoke disparagingly of Wallace's abilities to handle the multi-billion-dollar agencies now grouped within the commerce department. Jones said on this point:

"I have had satisfaction in my government service because I have had the confidence of congress, as well as your own. I have had that confidence because I have been faithful to the responsibilities that have been entrusted to me. For you to turn over all these assets and responsibilities to a man inexperienced in business and finance will, I believe, be hard for the business and financial world to understand."

Japanese Diet is In Secret Session

secret meeting lasted for an hour and a half.

"Shigemitsu was questioned by members of the diet following his report," Domei added in the story intercepted by the Federal Communications Commission.

The German retreat from the Bastogne sector was at a slightly slower pace. The widest overnight gain by the Third Army was reported by the Sixth Armored Division, which rolled a mile and a quarter into Stockem, ten miles northeast of Bastogne and seven short of Germany.

Farther north, the 90th Division pushed a mile east to Brachtenbach, three miles northwest of Witt. The Sixth Armored Division cleared out Hoffelt, 11 miles northeast of Bastogne.

Explaining that the disastrous floods on March, 1936, resulted from exceptional snow coverage on ground already frozen solid, followed by a two week warm spell and then heavy rains. Conover said the Sixth Armored Division cleared out Hoffelt, 11 miles northeast of Bastogne.

Recruiters Here Tuesday After WACs

A recruiting unit of the Women's Army Corps, comprised of members of the staff of the Erie WAC Recruiting Office, will arrive in Warren on Tuesday, and maintain offices from 2 until 7 p. m., on Tuesday in the Y. W. C. A. Members of the unit will be Lt. Mary A. O'Connor, Commanding Officer and S/Sgt. Mary I. Gravel.

General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, U. S. Army, announced that more than 8,000 additional Wacs are required in the newly created Women's Army Corps Medical Units for service at the Army's sixty general hospitals in this country, and urged the Governors of the forty-eight states and the Commissioners of the District of Columbia to exercise their leadership in aiding this most vital program. In his letter to the Governors and Commissioners, General Marshall said:

"The care of the increasing numbers of casualties returning to the United States, together with the acute shortage in nurses and hospital personnel generally, necessitates urgent measures being taken to recruit and rapidly train women for service in Army hospitals. We urgently need WAC units for our sixty general hospitals. Your leadership in recruiting these women will be of great service to the Army."

The WAC needs women qualified for training as technicians in the medical and surgical fields, clerical workers and other skilled women to serve in the care and rehabilitation of soldiers returned from overseas, and to release able-bodied men from technical and administrative duties. Medical and surgical technicians perform various duties in hospital wards and operating rooms, working under the supervision of renowned professional men and women in the Army Medical and Nurses Corps and assisting in the care of the sick, injured and wounded.

Battle casualties are being returned to the United States for treatment at Army general hospitals at the rate of 20,000 a month. "More and more Wacs are continually needed to help share this load, which is the highest the Medical Department has had in the history of the Army. For this purpose, the Army has set up an all-Wac enlisted technicians' school at Wakenam General Hospital, Camp Atterbury, Indiana, and has established three other technicians' schools, at Beaumont General Hospital, El Paso, Texas, at Fitzsimons General Hospital, Denver, Colorado, and at Brooks General

Hospital, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Women between the ages of 20 and 50 years, with two years high school education, and no children under 14 years old, are eligible for enrollment in the medical field. Consult the WAC Recruiting Unit about your particular case, and how you proceed to enlist. DO IT TODAY! Our soldiers need you NOW!!!

Farmers Can Apply Now for Dairy Subsidy

All Warren County farmers to whom Dairy Feed subsidy payments were made in the preceding payment period have recently been mailed applications for the November-December subsidy. Any others who have produced and sold whole milk, cream or butter, are also entitled to receive the subsidy of eighty cents a hundred for milk and eleven cents a pound for butter-fat.

To obtain this payment farmers who have not received applications are urged to contact at once the AAA office, 225 Penn'a Ave., W., in Warren where they may be secured. Applications filed after Feb. 28, 1945 will be approved only when the delay is not due to negligence and is caused by reason beyond the control of the applicant. According to present information payment for January-February-March production will be made in one payment in April.

Spartansburg Fire Endangers Building Group

Spartansburg, Jan. 22—Fire here Thursday afternoon badly damaged the two-story Sandwich Shop building on Main street, entailing a loss estimated at $3,000 to $4,000, partly covered by insurance. The owner, Lella D. Donahay, said the property would be rebuilt as soon as possible, but in the meantime Spartansburg will probably be without a restaurant.

The fire seemed to start from a chimney in the attic and the first the restaurant staff knew that the building was on fire was when William Biley, who had seen the smoke from across the street, rushed in and gave the alarm. That was about 1:30.

The building is a frame structure and over the restaurant are living quarters occupied by Miss Donahay and her sister, Vera. Virtually nothing was saved from the second floor, but nearly everything was removed from the first floor. Two exceptions were a refrigerator and an oil stove.

Because the restaurant building is one of a group and there was danger of the fire's spreading, it was deemed best to ask that assistance for the local firemen be summoned from Corry. The fire department there sent down a truck. The two groups fought the flames for two hours and a half and prevented their spreading to other property.

Damage to the first floor was principally by water. The building is still in a substantial condition and can be rebuilt as soon as materials are obtained.

The structure was once known as the Goldstein building and was owned until December, 1943, by E. H. Boughton.

A southbound passenger train that already was several hours late was delayed about half an hour and a northbound freight train about fifteen minutes because of fire hose being across the track.

The Sixth War Loan was the most successful sales program in the history of the world—total sales amounted to $21,621,000,000. Preliminary Treasury figures show that a greater amount of news and editorial space was devoted to the Sixth Drive, than to any other.

That news was made by news. In every department the press of the nation pounded away with powerful front page stories—editorials—special articles—comic strips—comic panels—editorial cartoons—special features—pictures, etc., with the urgent message of our Nation's financial needs.

The proof of the power of that tremendous support by the press is shown in the final sales figures of the greatest of all money raising programs—the Sixth War Loan Drive. To say that newspapers played a vital part in that great effort is not enough. The job that they did in answer to America's call for funds represents an accomplishment that is well worthy of special recognition.

The free press of our Nation has demonstrated again that there is no limitation on what it can accomplish when voluntarily united in a common cause for the benefit of mankind. The American people should feel proud of the job that you have done.

The importance of War Bond sales cannot be overemphasized.

We Say Again

Serve America NOW

NURSES NEEDED to care for our wounded!

Surely, nursing our wounded back to life and happiness is the finest service a girl can give her country. Many more nurses are urgently needed now . . . ask your local Red Cross, today, about eligibility.

And it is vital that all of us step up our efforts — by buying additional war bonds, by giving extra blood — by sticking to essential war jobs.

See America Later

AFTER VICTORY...
Highways will be Happy Ways — again

Greyhound's all-important job today is moving manpower — men and women in uniform, war workers, millions of essential travelers. But Greyhound is also planning great things for you in the post-war days — bus trips and tours on a brand new scale of comfort, enjoyment.

"Serve America Now—See America Later" . . . this has been Greyhound's message to America ever since the day of Pearl Harbor. It's worth saying again and again.

As some of our leaders have said on many occasions, "Next to the actual fighting, the War Bond program is the most vital part of our war effort."

Your cooperation with the Treasury through the Allied News-Paper Council and the Newspaper Editorial Advisory Committee, both under the chairmanship of Frank E. Tripp, is proving most helpful to our program, and all of us here at the Treasury sincerely appreciate the outstanding support that newspapers are giving this vital cause.

Sincerely,
George S. Little,

ing sportsmen. Helme Kolpien, former Warren head basketball mentor, Sammy Cosmano, the community's leading howler, having recently hit a 200 score at the Penn alleys; and numerous other interested fans saw the locals annex their second successive league win. (By the way, Sammy received a United States War Bond from Penn owner Harry Bittenbender for his brilliant turn-in a few weeks ago.)

The preliminary of the Warren-Jamestown affair was the most exciting event of the evening Saturday, the game finally ending about 9:20, almost two hours for one game. The local seconds really put on a show and came out on top after a hectic battle which featured an overtime period and "sudden death" period.
